

Writing (Y5, Text Structure and Purpose)

S&G

Verbs of reported speech

When characters speak in a story, a verb is used to tell the reader how the words were said. Encourage the children to find examples of these verbs in the text.

- Show children the PCM and remind them to include quotes from the people involved, using their notes made from the role play.

Follow-up: children could write a recount from Tiana's perspective.

Next Steps

Making Links: children research charities that are set up to protect animals, nature and birds. Can they find common themes between the way that these charities report their work?
