

Formal and informal tone

Explain that some authors like to chat to their readers, using a more informal style, whereas others prefer just to say what happened. Encourage children to reflect on this as they read and decide how this author wanted to approach the reader.

Using the PCM, children develop their ideas from the Spoken Language activity to write their own playscript of 'Savitri's Tale'.