Create a Tweet length blurb of your book remembering that you can only use 280 characters including spaces.

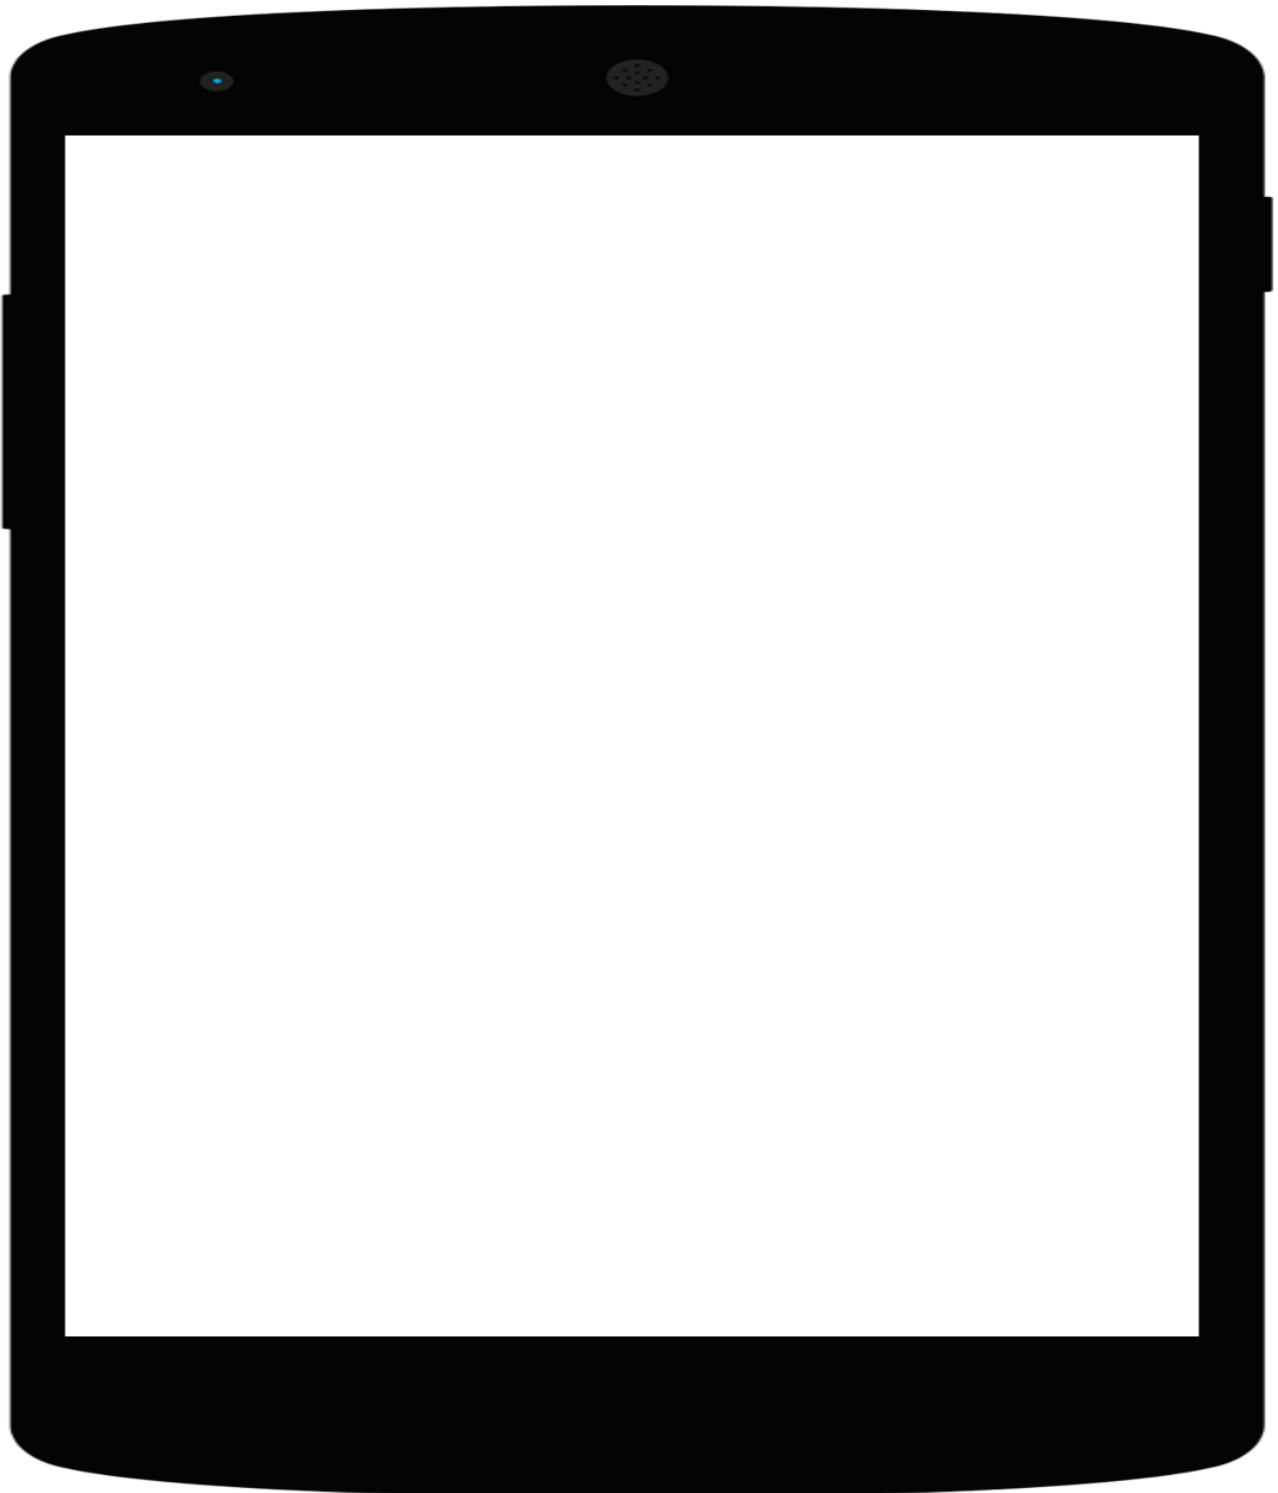

The image shows a stylized representation of a Twitter tweet box. It features a blue background with the word "twitter" in a white, rounded font at the top left. In the top right corner, the number "140" is displayed in white. The central part of the box is a large white rectangle with rounded corners, intended for the tweet text. A thin horizontal line is positioned near the bottom of this white area, suggesting a cursor or a line of text. The entire graphic is enclosed within a double-line border, with an inner blue line and an outer orange line.

What happened next? Write a couple of paragraphs about what happens after your book has finished. Use the last couple of paragraphs of the book to help you.

And then

Create a text conversation between 2 main characters regarding an Important part of the story.

Your main character has asked you to organise their birthday party. You have to pick a location, the music, the food and guest list..

Remember to use your character's likes and dislikes
