1	anonymous	Great school and staff who all work hard and get it right for every child and knows each child well . I have also encouraged my sister to send my niece who starts in August great work everyone
2	anonymous	Staff are fantastic and we are always met with a warm welcome
3	anonymous	As a parent I am still hearing reports where children with special needs are being allowed to get away with behaviour that is deemed unacceptable for other pupils. This is causing confusion, and a little resentment, with the other children especially as they get older ..... please note I refer to behavioural issues rather than autism etc.
4	anonymous	I feel bad behaviour from some children should be dealt with more severely
5	anonymous	School are always very supportive with any issues we have
6	anonymous	No thanks
7	anonymous	My son really enjoys school and I have has no concerns about the education he receives.
8	anonymous	Couldn't be happier with the school and everything it does for my girls.
9	anonymous	Excellent school
10	anonymous	My child hates the school dinners
11	anonymous	Emily says homework should be abolished  and so does her mum.
12	anonymous	My children love school & are happy going every morning
13	anonymous	amazing school
14	anonymous	Find the learning is fantastic it's advanced and certainly helps push daughter to her best abilitythi
15	anonymous	Good thing about school

27. For the last two sessions we have received Pupil Equity funding. This is a direct payment to the school to reduce the poverty related attainment gap. Over the last two years we have used this fund to provide staff to raise attainment and support pupils and families with their learning and wellbeing. We have bought resources and IT to support learning and teaching and to enhance our environment. If you have any thoughts about how we can spend this fund please share your ideas below...

1	anonymous	I think sometimes the homework needs to be explained bit easier to parents
2	anonymous	Perhaps we could have a book to record when we read at home
3	anonymous	Between school, work and clubs we are only able to do homework on 1 night per week. This kids can get too much for 1 sitting.
4	anonymous	Homework is good to show me how my child is doing but could probably be a little less.
5	anonymous	We really don't like family challenges
6	anonymous	Much of the time homework is reasonable but occasionally it is excessive and consumes too much time. Consistent levels would be more welcome
7	anonymous	reduce frequency

8	anonymous	Really enjoyed the STEM egg project. Felt engaged more than just doing normal homework.
9	anonymous	Don't enjoy the crafty homework
10	anonymous	I understand the need for homework, we sometimes struggle to complete in the evening due to work commitments, clubs and my child can often be very tired by the time we get a chance to sit down and complete it. This sometimes causes a problem. If homework could be given to include the option to complete at the weekend this would help as I feel my son would get more from it if we more time to concentrate on it at a less busy time of the week.
11	anonymous	Homework club is very beneficial for my children. It allows them to focus on their homework, away from distractions at home. They have after school activities on every night but they know Wednesday is homework night and this helps keep them in a good routine.
12	anonymous	I do not think homework really benefit's my child, she struggles to find time to do it, causing stress at home
13	anonymous	We never have time to do it
14	anonymous	I think homework should be discontinued
15	anonymous	Homework can take some time to complete but my children do not complain and I feel it is good for them to learn to do work at home on their own at an early age.
16	anonymous	great
17	anonymous	My child has lots of clubs he attends one every evening, we have very little time in our week to accommodate homework tasks and it adds stress to our family time.
18	anonymous	My only comment is that homework club is an integral part of my sons ability to do and complete all homework he is given, we get the time and help from Hollie who is amazing
19	anonymous	Good
