

My Favourite Day Recount

L.I. - I am learning to write a personal recount and describe my feelings.

You are going to write a recount about your favourite day ever. It might have been a birthday, on holiday and or another exciting day for you. Think about what happened that day from the beginning to the end. It must be a day where you can remember what happened. You should try to use describing words and describe how you felt during this day, what you saw, did and who was there. Remember to think about when, where, when, who, how and why.

When you are writing a personal recount, you are writing about what has happened to you and you are telling the story in a logical order from the beginning to the end.

Success Criteria

- I can write relevant information in a logical order.
- I can describe my feelings.
- I can use adjectives for descriptions.
- I can write in paragraphs.
- I can remember my core targets.
