

Literacy Publishers and Editors

Hello boys and girls, I cannot believe we are into our last full week in Primary 4. You have all worked really hard with your home learning.

For our reading book this week, you are going to choose your own book! You can either choose a book you are reading at home, or choose one of the books we haven't read yet on Oxford Owl. I have provided a grid for you to choose one activity per day. It's completely your choice. Remember only 4 days as on the fifth day you will complete the writing task. I hope you enjoy trying something different!

Remember if you are unsure of what to do or how to login, please send an email and I will help you gw14reillyelaine@glow.sch.uk

Once again, I am so happy to see more of you logging into IDL, thank you.

I have uploaded a selection of grammar activities onto Education City. The activities shouldn't take you long as we have covered them in the class, so please try your best to complete them.

My Classwork, Adverbs

Complete the activities to remind yourself of adverbs.

My Classwork, Adjectives

Complete the activities to remind you of adjectives.

My Classwork, Pronouns

Complete the activities to remind you of pronouns.

As I mentioned earlier, this week you can choose your own book. You can either choose a book from home or choose one from the selection available on Owford Owl.

Choose a task from the table below. Please remember, I am only expecting you to complete four tasks and complete the writing activity on the fifth day. Have fun!

Design a new front cover.	Write a character description of your favourite character.	Create your own 5 questions about the book.
Create a different ending.	Write a book review.	Find 5 tricky words and use a dictionary to find the meaning of the word.
Write a beginning, middle and end.	Can you think of a better title for the book?	Turn the book into a short comic strip.
