HEAD TEACHER'S WELCOME

I would like to extend a very warm welcome to our Careers Event. This is our fourth year running such an event and each year it has grown to include more providers ensuring our pupils have an opportunity to find out about a large number of career pathways.

At Braidhurst we work hard to raise the aspirations of our young people, making sure they leave school with the right qualifications and attributes to move into a destination of their choice. Part of that process is to highlight all the possible routes available to them. The advantage of an event like this is that we can provide much of that information on one occasion in one place.

We are therefore extremely grateful to the large number of employers and further education staff who have come along to our event to support our ambition. It provides a vehicle to raise awareness of the expectations of both employers and further education establishments by allowing face to face conversations to take place with our pupils. We are grateful to all our contributors giving generously of their time and thank them for their contribution.

Lastly, to our young people and parents please make the most of this opportunity to come along and speak to our many representatives. Ask about entry requirements, expectations and courses – be fully informed of what you need to do to make your ambition a reality. Aim high and work hard to make it happen.

Your CV or personal statement must demonstrate evidence of an interest in a specific field to support your application. Attending this event and speaking to representatives shows such an interest.

I hope you enjoy the event and get something from it. Please complete the evaluation form and feedback to let us know how we can change things to make it better next year.

WHAT IS DYW?

Developing the Young Workforce (DYW) is a seven-year programme (2014-2021) that aims to better prepare children and young people aged 3–18 for the world of work. It has a focus on improving work experience, careers information, advice and guidance and providing greater access to vocational learning. This programme builds on the foundations already in place as part of Curriculum for Excellence. The programme's headline aim is to reduce youth unemployment by 40% by 2021.

DYW AT BRAIDHURST HIGH SCHOOL

At Braidhurst, we are fully committed to supporting our pupils on the pathway to a positive destination. Throughout BGE and the Senior Phase, we have designed a specifically tailored approach to ensure all of our pupils develop skills for life and work. Our DYW wall shows the pathway that each pupil will undertake to allow them to develop various skills that will prepare them for whatever career pathway they choose.

Currently throughout BGE, (S1 to S3) pupils work towards gaining accreditations, through our ASDAN Awards, to build their personal statements from a young age. Every pupil, from S1 upwards, will utilise My World of Work and have their profile stored online. Our pupils will also have the opportunity to attend events that will enhance their knowledge of their chosen career path.

As pupils move towards the Senior Phase, S4 pupils will undertake specific CV writing prior to a mock interview evening. S4 pupils can also experience a work placement or be part of our Skills for Life & Work Programme – a programme designed to provide pupils with further opportunities to develop core skills and gain recognised awards. Moving to S5/6, pupils are split into PSHE groups determining their chosen career pathway and are supported by staff and other agencies.

OUR DYW VISION

By 2021 our goal is:

- For DYW to be fully embedded into our curriculum
- S1-6 and our pupils recognise the pathway they are on.
- All pupils provided with an opportunity to have a work placement between S4 and S6.
- Work in close cohesion with at least five strategic partners – providing extended work placements, workshops and presentations on a consistent basis.
- Increase our positive destination from 87.6% to a minimum of 95%.

Smaller Earth/ Camp Leaders

From our 15 international offices, we send thousands of young people on work and travel programs, all around the world. On a deeper level, we believe that we're changing the world by inspiring people to go further, one person at a time.

We believe that travel is the key to changing the world. It's not just about going to new places and seeing new sights - it's about the experience, and what it does to you. Travel is the best way we've found to add profound meaning to our lives - and the success of our programs prove that other people are searching for those experiences too.

Cultural exchange is about connecting with people from different backgrounds, and finding common value and purpose with them. We've been all around the world, and found ours. Wherever you go, go further.

EY

Building a better
working world

EY Foundation

We work to give young people the skills, experiences and support to get the jobs they really want, and connect employers to talented young people across the UK. We also help social enterprises scale up sustainably, creating more opportunities for young people.

Our vision is that every young person in the UK can succeed in the workplace.

Our mission is to reduce the barriers to work many young people face, supporting them to successfully transition into higher education, employment or self-employment.

We believe every employer in the UK regardless of size, or sector has an important role to play in giving young people a better start to their working lives.

S_CIAL
MOBILITY
F_UNDATION®

The Social Mobility Foundation (SMF) is a charity which aims to make a practical improvement in social mobility for young people from low-income backgrounds. The SMF was founded in 2005 by Linkson Jack in order to provide opportunities and networks of support for 16-17 year olds who are unable to get them from their schools or families.

More than ten years on, the first students supported by us have gone on to be successful in achieving degrees and graduate entry jobs. As well as extending support to students throughout university across our 11 career sectors (Accountancy, Architecture, Banking & Finance, Biology & Chemistry, Business, Digital, Engineering & Physics, Law, Media & Communications, Medicine, or Politics) we now run programmes to support young people wherever they live in the UK.

Focus on College and University Study
West of Scotland

FOCUS West (Focus on College and University Study – West of Scotland) is the largest division of the national Schools for Higher Education Programme (SHEP) in Scotland. We work to support young people into higher education, whether this is a degree course at a university or a Higher National (HN) qualification in a college.

Our work is on behalf of all universities and colleges and is therefore not connected to any one institution and we offer support regardless of the pupil's subject area or career path of choice. This allows us to be impartial, inclusive and to offer balanced and helpful advice and guidance to the pupils we support.

SCQF

The Scottish Qualifications Framework helps people of all ages and circumstances to access the education and training that is appropriate to them over their lifetime. It can help you plan your learning and develop progression routes to follow, whatever your situation may be.

EMERGENCY SERVICES

SCOTTISH
FIRE AND RESCUE SERVICE

Working together for a safer Scotland

Every one of our members of staff plays a crucial role in making Scotland safer. Whether it's our front line firefighters, accountants, fire prevention staff who work with people in their communities every day, or any other one of the wide variety of roles that make up the Service, you can be certain that we are working hard to ensure people in Scotland are as safe as possible. Working for us is a rewarding experience. Whilst we offer a very competitive salary and benefits package, excellent training, development and opportunities to progress your career, many of the people who work for us say that the biggest benefit they get, is the job itself - playing your own part in an organisation that saves lives.

We also believe in nurturing talent and developing future leaders and for that we need people with the determination and enthusiasm to succeed. As a member of our staff you will be encouraged to follow a Personal Development Plan to progress your career against recognised goals. Training requirements are different for each role, but we take an all-round approach to your learning and development, so you will know that whatever job you take on, you will always have the skills to do it - and to do it well.

POLICE
Keeping people safe
POILEAS ALBA

Police Scotland was formally established on 1 April 2013 and is responsible for policing across the length and breadth of Scotland, some 28,168 square miles. Police Scotland is the second largest force in the UK after the Metropolitan Police. The Service is led by a Chief Constable and comprises police officers, police staff and special constables who are working together to deliver the best possible policing service for the people of Scotland.

There are 13 local policing divisions, each headed by a Local Police Commander who ensures that local policing in each area is responsive, accountable and tailored to meet local needs. Each division will encompass response officers, community officers, local crime investigation, road policing, public protection and local intelligence.

Alongside the local policing divisions, there are a number of national specialist divisions. The Specialist Crime Division (SCD) provides specialist investigative and intelligence functions such as Major Crime investigation, Public Protection, Organised Crime, Counter Terrorism, Intelligence and Safer Communities. These functions may not be required frequently but when a serious crime takes place, or public safety is under threat from criminals, the most professional response is available, regardless of where you live.

GOVERNMENT

We have a vibrant, diverse and growing economy with a great mix of small, medium-sized and large businesses.

People are encouraged to participate in employment opportunities in North Lanarkshire yet also have the support they need to access jobs. They have skills appropriate to the needs of employers. They are supported, no matter their background, personal needs or economic circumstances.

The council is a special place to work, with engaged ambitious people who are ambassadors for the services they provide. We're fizzing with energy, have bags of determination and we're moving at a pace to make real changes to our communities and how we work together to deliver services.

Working here, every individual knows that their job has an impact on our people and helps our communities to flourish. Our services enhance lives, change experiences and foster relationships. Our services are aligned to support people at every stage of their life and we work with our partners, combining our skills and resources, to provide real, and sustainable solutions with, and for, our communities.

Structured under four services – Chief Executive's, Education and Families, Enterprise and Communities and Adult Health and Social Care – we operate a collective approach to tackle the barriers to growth, reduce poverty and to open up opportunities to create more equal communities.

It's vital that staff feel valued and our policies reflect our commitment to respecting diversity and equality in the workplace. Providing appropriate training to allow staff at any level, to achieve their own ambitions, is embedded in our work practices.

As well as competitive salaries, generous annual leave and an attractive pension scheme, there's a great range of benefits, including our Work Well NL programme, flexible working and a new rewards and recognition scheme called NL Life. We're a high-performing, solutions-focussed council and we need talented people with drive, skills and ambition to achieve our shared ambition.
