

BA degrees in Humanities and Social Sciences

Subjects can be combined with some in Business School:

Economics

Human Resource Management

Marketing

Tourism

Science Faculty:

Mathematics (with Psychology/Politics)

Degree Structure

Year 1: study three subjects

Year 2: narrow down to two subjects

Years 3 and 4: single subject (single honours) or two subjects (joint or major/minor honours)

All students (except psychology) have the opportunity to spend Year 3 abroad in Europe, North and Central America, Asia, Australia & New Zealand.

BA entry requirements: all BA (H&SS) degrees

AAAA at Higher from one sitting or AAAAB from two (a student with less than an AAB 5th Year profile is unlikely to gain a conditional offer)

HNC in Social Sciences with A in the graded unit

SWAP access course with ABB in the grades profile

Various pre-entry courses recognised: contact for advice

Second year entry possible for HND in Social Science for applicants with ABB in the graded units including classes in the relevant subjects

simd Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation

Admissions

- Admission to full-time study is via the UCAS system
- Operating a Gathered Field admissions process
- Entry competitive (c.4800 applications for 455 places). Number of applications going up, number of places going down.
- Satisfactory References and Personal Statements required
- Grade concessions for SIMD40, Focus West applicants and Care Leavers

UCAS personal statement

- Motivation for studying a particular degree; academic interests.
- Work experience and skills accrued.
- Interests and hobbies.
- Any positions of responsibility held, contribution to community.
- Articulates ideas about likely/possible career(s).

Careers after the HASS BA

- As part of the BA we run a structured Personal Development Planning system designed encourage student reflection on and acquisition of study and employment-related skills (confidence, self-expression/awareness, written and oral skills, self-reliance and problem solving, analytical and research skills).
- Dedicated careers service unit to help guide students into graduate employment.
- BA students go on to wide variety of careers in government, law, education, libraries, museums, research, media, psychology, health and social welfare.
- Most graduate employers in banking, commerce and industry recruit graduates from any discipline.

Contact:

General admissions enquiries:
hass-admissions-ba@strath.ac.uk

University of Strathclyde
Glasgow