YEARBOOK

2003-2004

Opening Words

"The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future life"
Plato (427 BC - 347 BC), The Republic.

I am pleased to contribute to this gratitude – not to mention my sur-Yearbook Committee and the Their perseverance and nagging

The out going S6 have been some of them have gone out far managed to achieve excellent same time – not an easy feat and

I wish all of you success whatever field of study or work you will be successful and able to make a valuable contribution to your communities.

great publication to express my prise - at the hard work of the dedicated staff who drive it. has been worthwhile.

'out going' right enough. In fact too often! However, they exam results and have fun at the not one to recommend to others!

and happiness for the future in you find yourself. I am sure that

The old saying 'school days are the best days of your life' may not ring true for all of you right now, but I am sure that in future years you will all look back fondly on your time here at Cardinal Newman High School. It is a great school – full of caring and hard working people who always have your best interests at heart.

Even though you leave school we will still be interested in you and regard you as 'ours'. Be well, do well and keep in touch.

Mrs Boyd.

If it is widely regarded that a year is a long time in politics then surely the same can be said for education. So much happens in any school year that leaves you wondering where the time has gone.

Multiply this by six (years) and you begin to realise that a key phase in your life, secondary education, is drawing rapidly to a close. During this period you have moved from being a child to a young adult developing physically, emotionally, intellectually and spiritually as you, like thousands before you, have travelled through Cardinal Newman High School.

Without doubt the school and all its manifestations will have made a massive impression on you and had an impact that will last you a lifetime.

I have been particularly privileged this year to be involved directly with you, Sixth Year. This has been a wonderful experience for me, due largely to my belief that as Sixth Year pupils you have been remarkable. I truly think that so many of you are destined for great success and hope you will use your varied and various talents to demonstrate that both you and Cardinal Newman High have been good for each other. You are now required to use these qualities as the next exciting stage of your life beckons. Go with confidence and my profound best wishes.

P McMahon

It always amazes me when I think back on the last six years with regard to students who are about to leave us. In my role I have had the privilege to work with so many of the students about to leave us. I can safely say that you have come a long way. It is always good for the school community to have positive role models in upper school and in 2003/04 that has been the case.

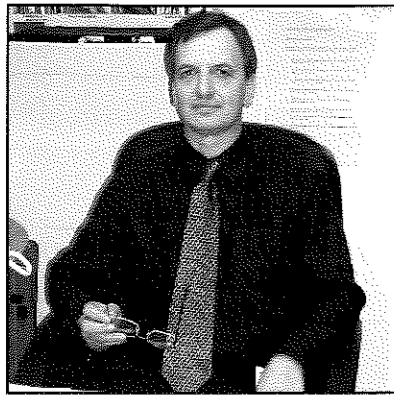

I would just like to wish upper school all the best, especially those who are leaving the school community. You have all been a credit to your families and Cardinal Newman High School. I am sure that you will all go on to fulfil your potential.

It has been my pleasure to work with upper school, preparing students for exams, UCAS and the world of work. It, of course, has been a year of challenges and I would just like to point out that the Students on the whole took up that challenge with great success.

Try to remember the important things that you were taught at CNHS. We are a community. A community that works together. Try to continue to support each other as you move into new and challenging fields.

All the best. JMcG

Year Heads

Well, doesn't time fly? The view from the First Year Social Area doesn't change much year on year, but the faces do. Each September, I am amazed when I run into a new Fifth or Sixth Year student helping out at the Buddy Club, and realise that this young sophisticate is the same 'wean' as I knew in S1. It's great to see how well our pupils develop, and to be reminded – even in the darkest moments of Corridor Tig and Dolly-Bead fights – that the most recent batch of new-starts will turn into responsible young adults, too.

As always, I have a particular debt to Sixth Years because of the contribution they make to helping the new S1 to settle in. This session, the Fifth Years also helped, and the training day at the Bothwell Bridge was a great success. All the student volunteers who stuck it through to the end of the Buddy Club were well-appreciated and popular with the youngsters, who saw them as people to aspire to. As you move on to another life after school, don't forget the successes that you had here.

J. McGachey

The time for writing these submissions for the Year Book seems to come round earlier and earlier each year. The academic years just seem to fly by which is great if you're looking forward to the holidays, but pretty frightening when you've got exams to sit at the end of it. Fourth Year is a pretty frightening one not least because it's the first time these students have faced the formal exams situation. I have to say that so far they have coped very well with the strain that this brings. I wish all the exam students in S4,5 and 6 well in the forthcoming exams. Remember, you will always do as well as you deserve.

On a broader note, the school began its' second 25 years as it completed its first; CNHS is a great school with great pupils, parents and staff and it shows in everything that we do. Now we have a new School Board which will hopefully help us to work even more closely in partnership with the parent body for the benefit of all the pupils.

Finally, as always, a word of congratulations for the tireless work of the Year Book Committee. The expectation of the school are very high as regards the quality of the product the Committee produces; once again we have not been disappointed. Well done.

E. Morrison

This year has been another year of change for me, having 'moved' from Depute Head (Senior School) to the new post of Depute Head (Pupil Support) last summer. This has meant that I now work closely with the Pupil Support Team and the Learning Support Department and this has allowed me to get to know a whole range of pupils from S1 to S6. I have enjoyed the new challenge of providing for the support needs of many pupils by enlisting additional help from other agencies such as Social Work and Psychological Services. I do have to admit too that I have missed the daily contact I previously had with S5 and S6 in particular. This year I have noticed one or two innovations in S5/6- the table tennis tables for example and the new S5 common room! I hope that these have not encouraged you to relax entirely as you have exams to pass very soon.

I hope that all pupils in Cardinal Newman HS benefit from the opportunities for learning offered here and strive to be the very best they can be. I hope that our exam candidates and our S6 in particular achieve the success they deserve and I would like to wish all our leavers this summer, success in whatever career they choose to follow and health and happiness always.

B. Tollan

Time Flies By When You're...

Close your eyes. Let me take you on a journey down Nostalgia Avenue. You might see some frightening things. Please, be not afraid, they are but memories...

1st Year

Remember a time when Viva Forever by the Spice Girls was top of the charts? When South Park was just about to spawn a hundred playground catchphrases? When Dr Jo Venglos kept falling asleep in the Celtic dugout? What an exciting time to make the daunting transition from primary to secondary school. In we walked on our first day at Cardinal Newman, a bunch of naïve 11 and 12 year olds, many of us with peroxide blonde hair following the World Cup. At first we all stuck to groups from our previous schools, but it wasn't long before we joined in triumphant chants of "hagiiiiiiiiis!" and "shanner eye-bawwwwl!". There was even cross-school romance with the infamous Terence & Tracey kiss on the grass next to the railway track. In between nail-biting games of 'codes' and 'jingles', we'd attempt to 'rock the cradle' on our yoyos. Yes, yoyos were big comeback fad of 1st year. The most dedicated of us had a Pro Yo, famed for it's ball-bearing transaxle with maximum spinnage.

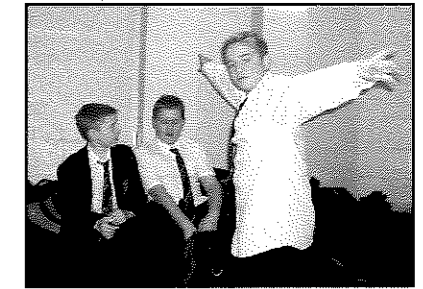

We soldiered on through the year and were rewarded with various school trips. At Blair Drummond Safari Park, CNHS had its very own animal in Michael Bradshaw, known for months as 'the dolphin' after his glorious dive from the Flying Fox zipline into the water. Later we were taken to the theme park, Lightwater Valley, where Marno picked up a pound coin from the bottom of a urinal and kept it. Filthy. He probably picked his nose and ate it, too.

2nd Year

Was there ever a more majestic sight than wee Fra Boyle dreeping off the mall? Of course there was, didn't you see legendary supply teacher Mr Paton play his own concerto on the piano? Mr Paton (stop drooling, girls). Man of the moment, without a doubt. However, his musical exploits weren't enough to stop Blue by Eiffel 65 becoming the most sang, hummed and whistled tune of the year. Some of us even had it as the ringtone on our new mobile phones. The majority of us had a mobile phone by now. The most popular model was the 'Nokia Brick', closely followed by the 'Sagem Cubic Metre'. Greg Ferguson held the year record for Snake, before disappearing to Germany (to work on a construction site with Dennis, Oz and Moxey, I'm told).

2nd year also saw the arrival of a man, who has since earned the title "Too Solid", a Mr Kev Egan, head of PE. A role model to us all, he flew into our lives like a rugged Mary Poppins and inspired us with his dedication and moral strength. Soon to depart from the school was the mightily-moustachioed Mr Byrne, who once shouted so hard that Florida was put on hurricane alert. Also this year: Barney got tripped up! Danny Duffy finally made it to his 20th day of attendance and Jason Bonnar got binned (or was that Davie Hutton? Maybe both).

Time Flies By When You're...

3rd Year

"Playtime is over." That's what we were told when we started our Standard Grade courses. Ok, I just made that up, but it would have made a suitable slogan. This year the Modern Studies classes held an election. A fierce and gruelling battle was fought between David Halliday of Labour, Claire Lannon of SNP, Gerard 'Jim Bear Hands' McMahon of the Conservatives, Stuart Macpherson of the Green Party and Lauren Keelan of the Lib Dems. In the end, it came down to who made the most ridiculous promises ("5 hour lunchtimes and edible teachers!") and SNP were victorious.

Elsewhere, Patrick Jaimeson and Nick Cooney became stars with their quizzical skills in Remote Control, a high-budget production for Lanarkshire TV. This year we said a tearful farewell to the tech department's finest, Mr Wyper. He cut his last piece of MDF before walking off into the sunset, whispering "don't sit on your brains, curly" as he his figure shrank smaller and smaller into the horizon. Our grieving was short lived, however, as he returned a few weeks later as if nothing had ever happened. We hadn't forgotten how he deserted us, but couldn't stay mad at the guy with an affectionate nickname for everyone (usually Fred or Curly).

4th Year

4th year started with a bang. That bang was of course from new pupil 007 Sean Convery's pistol. Master of stealth, Sean joined and left our school unnoticed. Where is he now? We were also joined by Gary can't remember his surname, edit this, better known as Gash Grimson and the 'Carstairs Crusher' Jackie Mackay. The latter had a fully grown beard and many questioned his true age. Rumours spread about him being a 34 year old undercover agent for the Carstairs mafia. Some specially selected pupils were taken to Spain for a week in October. Little did they know Phats & Small played the school theatre that very week. There was great competition between the two credit maths classes this year. Mr McCue, known to dance around the class at high speed, was said to have cancelled a full week's booking at the tanning salon so as to gain an advantage over the wonderful enigma that was Mr Donegan.

In February, the social subjects department took a crew of us to London. We visited the sights and saw a west end musical but the true highlight has to be Nicola Mitchell's ill fated journey into a postbox, face first. The months flew by and we ended up in May, exam time. It was around this time that most of us forgot the basics of potty training. In the summer, World Cup fever struck again. With the absence of Scotland, many of us became Irish or Swedish for the duration of the tournament. A truly beautiful moment of bonding between teachers and pupils occurred when Ronaldinho scored that incredible and truly deliberate free kick.

5th Year

This year saw a dramatic rise in the use of the phrase 'YES NO STOP IT!', with honourable mention to the ever-versatile 'tee-ái!'. Having lost many of our favourite characters who left in the summer, Andy Keating took it upon himself to lose his sanity and 'go mental yo yo yo'. He commanded the bouncy at Celidh in November and hosted some memorable bashes of his own. This was the year Aza 'Monkey' Maguire's voice finally broke. We'll never forget his final poignant words to us, "aye shut it yer maw", as he left to pursue a professional career in playing hidey and 2-man.

Time Flies By When You're...

Another loss this year was Head Teacher, Dr O'Keane. His replacement was the "simply fabulous" Mrs Boyd (source of quote wishes to remain anonymous). It wasn't long before she had to stamp her authority on CNHS, after just about the whole school had a convenient crisis of morality during class hours and decided to protest against the war in Iraq. A short-lived protest, but at least we missed 10 minutes of 3rd period. No history of school years can be complete without at least one big barny and this year saw a colossal riot, all over a girl of course. Horrified neutrals looked on as our new social area became a battleground. The outcome was a predictable stalemate, despite the hundred different versions of events we've since heard. Exam time came round and again all potty training went out the window.

6th Year

We returned for our final year to learn that our Higher results were the best in North Lanarkshire. What was more important to us, though, was that we were given a lollipop vending machine! We enjoyed our chupa chups until vandals took over. The Celidh this year was a fantastic time, hampered (although some would say improved) by the lack of the celidh band, who did a bunk. To make up for this tiny blip, everyone's favourite Year Head, Mr McMahon, decided to reward us with a second Celidh in January. This year has had two fads: the first is illegal and so can't really be mentioned (think of the remix of Dolly Parton's '9 to 5' for a clue), the other is driving, a far cry from the yoyos of yesteryear. A few of us have cars now and great joy is taken in tooting the horn at the mere pedestrians as we speed by on the way to Pacitti's, tunes blarin'. Keirido-mania swept the social area this year.

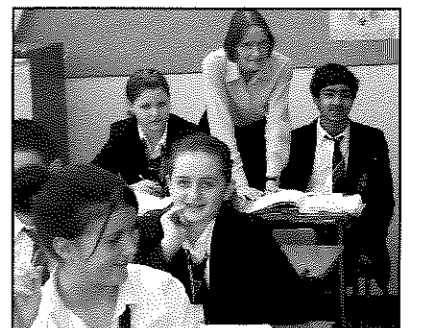

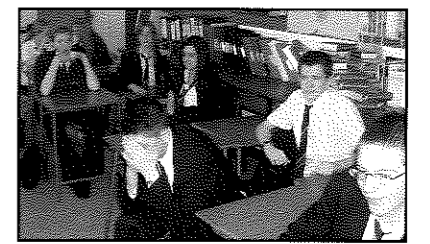

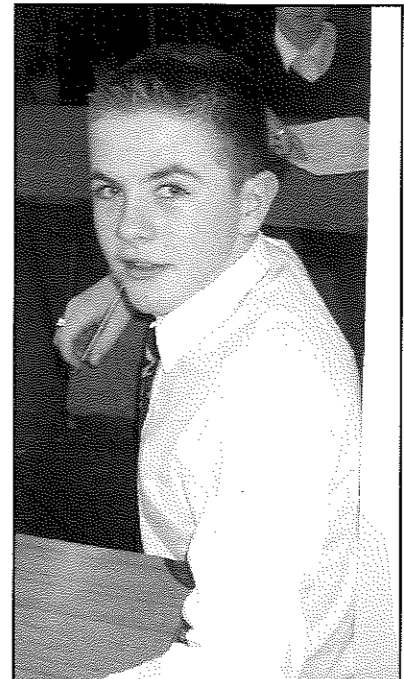

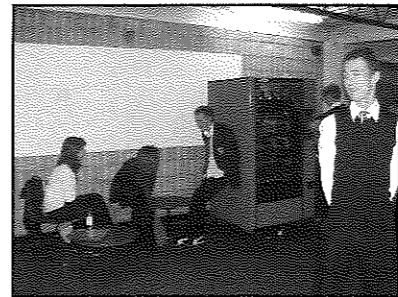

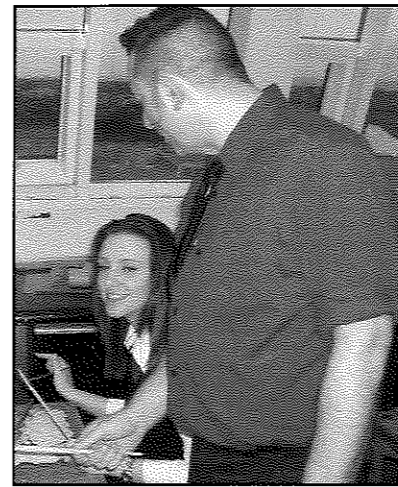

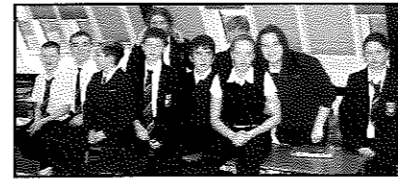

For a while, the most popular guy in the year was someone who didn't even go to our school. A sentence containing the word 'Keirido' wasn't complete without the word 'legend'. "The guy's a legend, man". The song of the year is without a doubt 'Aicha'. After weeks of practice, a dedicated group of us in the social area have perfected the Aicha dance and expect to perform it one day at the Royal Albert Hall. Hair-do of the year was going to Johnny 'Beckham' Connelly until he gave into the jibes and cut off his golden mullet. Don't worry folks, he's growing it back for Benidorm. Speaking of which, most of the year have booked holidays. In a move that could spell disaster, many of us are booked up for the same place. Beware, residents of Spain, the CNHS crew is comin to git the bouncy goin in a resort near you! Oh aye, we have some exams this year, too.

That Was The Year That was...

JUNE :

Father Stephen Reilly lead the Cardinal Newman senior school trip to the small town of Mejugorje , in Bosnia-Herzegovina. The pilgrimage was thoroughly enjoyed by all, although it was pretty uneventful, just the odd miracle or two. Cardinal Newman was glad to see the back of another sixth year group at the Leavers dance in Daziel Park, David Beckham finally left Manchester United for the sunny capital of Madrid as he signed for Real, and JK Rowling put us out of our misery as she finally ended the Harry Potter series of books with her concluding novel, "The Order Of the Phoenix".

JULY:

Summer Holiday time as Cardinal Newman Pupils enjoy six weeks without homework or the stress of being a pupil, as they bask in the sunny weather. Serena Williams overcame her older sister Venus to retain her Wimbledon title, as Roger Federer wins the mens title. T in the Park celebrated its tenth year, with a line-up including REM and Coldplay.

AUGUST:

August 4th, 2003, the day thousands of envelopes dropped through thousands of letter boxes, and thousands of teenagers let out a cry as one , 'DOH !! ' failed exams , maybe you should have studied after all, Ah well ! The class of 2004 start their final year of CNHS, with all new privileges, yes you heard right, a lolly-pop machine. It lasted a full week before being removed.

SEPTEMBER:

Osama Bin Laden appeared in a video on the eve of the September 11th attacks. Former boxing champion Frank Bruno was admitted to hospital after being sectioned under the mental health act. Father Stephen Reilly left.

OCTOBER:

Hollywood Action Star Arnold Schwarzenegger stormed to victory in California's governorship race, despite a number of sexual harassment allegations. David Blaine, who spent 44 days in a perspex box high above the Thames in London, emerges and is immediately taken to hospital for doctors to check whether he has permanently damaged his body. The singer of pop girl band, Girls Aloud , Cheryl Tweedy was convicted of assaulting a woman at a nightclub but cleared of racially aggravated assault. Father Stephen Rooney arrived as our new School Chaplain.

NOVEMBER :

The much anticipated Ceilidh in Bellshill Miners was the social highlight of November. There was something missing though, the Band! The mood was tense, the crowd was getting restless, until Hamish Sommerville saved the day by turning up and starting the party. Also this month many anxious students sent away their UCAS forms to apply for places at University. The MTV music awards was held at Leith's ocean terminal in Edinburgh and was attended by some of the biggest names in pop, including Kylie and Justin Timberlake. England win the Rugby World Cup, beating Austrailia by 20 points to 17 in the final at Sydney.

DECEMBER :

This month was filled with remarkable news. The senior school pupils were given a free ceilidh to make up for the mystery of November and the disappearance of a certain band. The coalition captured Saddam Hussein and Michael Jackson's Neverland home was invaded by police after serious allegations. Michelle McManus of Scotland wins Pop Idol and Gary Jules was Xmas number 1 with his single 'Mad World'.

JANUARY :

The Cardinal Newman pupils come back from their Christmas holidays well stuffed, and for the sixth year pupils , their last few months as high school pupils were well under way. Ever heard of a little website called clarkamondos.tk? If not then where have been you for the past year. This site caused a fuss when a grueling slugging match almost escalated into blind ugly violence. Many pupils were recieving University offers at this time, and Justin Timberlake rocked the SECC in Glasgow.

FEBRUARY:

The month of love was finally upon the students of Cardinal Newman and to celebrate they were given a long weekend to relax and romance (not really, it was just the way the dates worked out) and as the end of the month waned Mr flood stepped up to deliver to the students the message of lent and charity. Sponsored Fasts and Talent shows were on the agenda, but would he be able to top the christmas-time talent?

MARCH:

A bomb causes great devastation in Spain, the consequences of which help to bring down the Spanish Government. Celtic knock out Barcelona and Brian McFadden leaves Westlife.

"TEE I"

Gather the troops, head to Benidorm and get wasted. I'm going to get naked and start the revolution.

Nicholas Cooney

One important question remains unanswered: if I go into a shop and buy seven apples, how much change would I get from £5? That's all. Viddy well little brothers, viddy well.

Kelly Anne Cairney

Aww. Imagine us being all grown up. Hehe. I've had a great time at CNHS and I've made some great friends, But it's time to move on to bigger things, madder nights out and loads more giggles. And I can't wait.
Love Kelly Anne xXx

Davy Devine

Thanx for my 6 wonderful years in the exclusion unit.
I've really enjoyed the punnies and the extra holidays - I'm now a huge fan of Richard & Judy. Cheers CNHS.

Mark Downey

In my parting, I would like to say Wi not trei a holiday in yellow talking bus. Even if I lose my memory i can still retrace with certainty the footsteps to my soul.

Daniel Geddes

See you l8tr its been good.
(Just kidding, it was rubbish!)

Gary Fallon

Thanks to all my friends and teachers. You made me the man that I am. God Bless, Love U all.

To think I turned out such a fully formed citizen. Well done CNHS. I will definitely be muttering the age old cliche. School days are the best days of your life.

Pauline Holmes

RAGE I'm leaving! P.S. Carebears stare! Tal-vez Nicholas! See you in care-a-lot Jim luv Doris! ARIZONA PHOENIX-WE LOVE YOU! SMUDGER DUFF!

Daniel McAteer

Leaving school's kinda what I've wanted to do since i started, now I'm not sure. It's dead easy saying, I hate school but a lot harder to say I'll miss it. What I do know is, the hairy bellied girl made Heitenberg a happy bunny just by being his best pal.

Patrick Jamieson

Regrets, what are they but experiences we learn from. Thanks Mr Morrison. You taught me everything I know - I owe you everything. Miss you all. And no, that's not dust in my eyes, its tears.

Stephanie Kennedy

I thought my six years here at Cardinal Newman High was interesting because I made a lot of friends and the teachers were very helpful and encouraging Adios, Amigos Luv Stephanie

Scott Cruikshanks

What I'd like to thank all my teachers for is the care and consideration they displayed to us all. They taught me to think of others and I think this quality will stay with me as I conquer the world with my guitar and my unique personality. Viva lets Rock.

Laura Hughes

I'm glad I was at CNHS but I'm even more glad to be leaving. Live life to the max Yeahsssss!!! Hyperbole!!! Mon the 14 day Rave!!!

Chris Lafferty

Firstly, ladies and gentleman, John Sweeney, the guy is a legend! The last few years wit a laugh they've been. "CHRISSY, your spinnin me!" (Mingi, you know wit am on about) Big shout out to the 5th year posse, some good times on the Newman Wagon.

Chris Jackson

And so this is it, I guess. What can I say that I haven't already said...well not a lot as I yet again have few words that can express how I really feel. Here goes : " See yi."

Fiona Lavery
Luv U Lots
Big Hugs & Kisses to U know who.
And to the rest all the best.

Danielle McGranaghan

Hey, I can't believe that six years here have come & gone, but they have been the best of my life. I have so many memories (some I would rather forget) that will stay with me forever. I will miss you all, good luck with whatever you do. Keep in touch!
Love you megamillions

Amanda Lightbody

I'm really going to miss this school because I don't know where I'll get the gossip from. No seriously I'm really going to miss this place and everyone in it, well most people. C ya all in Benidorm 2004. Yassss!

Nicola Mitchell

Big Goodbyes to all. Thanx Mr Greer. What a guy. A guru who shed light on the darkness, who opened my eyes to the absurdity of it all. The fact that you have found success, inspires me. I mean if U can make it....

Robin Nash

13 years gone, 4 left and counting. (ps Airdrie Utd under 19's are Rubbish!)

Hollie Watt

Goodbye and Good luck. I hope you all have more laughs than tears and avoid working in Mcdonalds. There's a bright future in a place far away from CNHS x

Michael Bradshaw

Through my time here I have finally found the coefficient of -Z regarding coninthyises therom of throwing the ball off someones head and running away. This is all thanks to Hank Ramage and his co-rider Tash Mck. Also the encouraging slogan of YES, NO, STOP IT!

Chris Young

I can't wait to get out there and do this haircut justice. Look out world here I come, ready or not, don't blame me.....coz I'm Kraaaaaazzy.

James Strain

We can't all be good at everything, but everyone's good at something. (Thats why I stuck to fitbaw!)

Chris Buckley

The formula of compulsion equals X over bohemian Rhapsody. Follow this to the extent of the co-equal degree and times by 9 million. IF that don't work its broke. YES NO STOP IT. B-UNIT

David Halliday

Firstly, thanks to Hank Ramage for 5 tears dedicated service on the bus. CNHS has given me the skills i need to become a chippendale. Mmm, Broly socks in your face!! I'll catch yous all in Charlies lime and midouri please, pint eh diesel, cosmic, YES NO, STOP IT!!

Lauren Keelan

Big up y'all to the "HH" crew. Well, thats my time at CNHS finally come to an end. Nae luck to all those wee yins who have another five years ahead of them. I have made many good friends who won't easily be forgotten. "laters" Over and out. Loud and Clear. X.

Katerina Lambrou

Well my time is ended at CNHS and I've had the best laughs ever with all the gr8 friends I've made. So it's my turn to say goodbye and HOPEFULLY on to more fun and games. Keep it MASON!

Love you all

Ross Menzies

The degree of loft is neither thee spirit or slavery of power. Also thanks to Hank "white cobra" Ramage and Ding Chavez. Some helpful slogans are - "Yes No STOP IT!" or "geez a bottle eh, Johnny Walker"

Avaleinne Wilkie

School is like a roller coaster, it has its highs and lows, so sit back and enjoy the ride. My time at C.N.H.S has definitely been an exciting experience but I'm ready for my next adventure - Benidorm here we come!

Darren Vosilius

Stop the CNHS I want to get off coz i'm ready for the world. Thanks for gettin me to my destination.

Paula Mulraney

Catch ye after! I've waited ages toae say that (N it disnae half feel good) Haha 2 those left behind n remember if I don't see u. U weren't worth it anyway (kidden). Toes up tae ma crew in the luf! Thanx 4 making it a laugh. Luv ya 'P'!

Dean Williams

Life's just a ride, I'll see you again when we get off.

Paul Cavanagh

Catch yessz lads, respect and live the good life. An old wise ninja once said "Anyone can run into a hail of bullets, yet only the talented can attempt it for a second time." Tee I to the mightiest degree. I am really Steve 'Ultraman'. Scanlon you complete me! Crazy.

Michael Crosby

And there will now be a time of great confusion, and rumours of things going astray. And you won't know where lieth the little things, with a sort of raffia-workbase, that has an attachment. remember, we are the Brehmin of the Banal! Solidarity brother, and viddy well!!!

James Glancy

I'd just like to say that love is all around us and that is all you really need or so they say and I didn't really think this through did I???? Oh well. Cheerio.

Liam Hill

I'd like to wish all my mates the best of luck in the future. It's been great guys.

Ashleigh McCluskey

Well chaps and chappets, this is it, I'm finally outta here. I've had a ball over the 6 years but now I'm going to have an even bigger one - P.A.R.T.Y! 'Care Bear Stares' Kevin Limanov. Miss you all lots 'n' lots like Jellytots.

Sandi Brown
For the last six years I have been here, I have enjoyed nearly every minute of it and will be sad to leave. I will miss everyone, good luck to y'all. (P.S Sarcasm is essential) Love, Sandi Beaches (the future Mrs Bloom, you've got nae chance titch!)

Maria Clark

Never thought I'd say this but it has been the best years of my life at CNHS. How sad is that? Hey girls, we spent the whole of sixth year with no swipe card. Well seen we stole Brians. Good luck to all (See you in Charlies!) Yaaasss!!!

Johann Duffy

Hola Amigos, My six years here have been great. I've made some amazing new friends and grown closer to the ones I already had. Keep in touch everyone - Missing you already. P.S Topless bathing in Benidorm! xxx

Brian Graham

Ma last 6 years have bin nothin but amazin. Hangin with eyball McStruger & the McSterminator & the rest of ma awgs has been da bomb diggy. Peace Out!

Anthony Martin

Six years of school and am no more mature than I was in first year. Six years of school and am no much taller than I was in first year. So the moral of the story is Lloyd has a side-shed.

Jane McGranaghan

Catch ya after hayley hendo crew, we had a laugh now its over, hope we stick together, Luv Jane x

Jim Campbell

Thanks for all the happy years I have had here.

Jonathan Murphy

No matter how hard you try,
it's never good enough.
But Don't give up!

Katie Paterson

Hey Der! Well my time has come, I'd like to thank all my weird & wonderful friends, I couldn't have done it without You.
'Don't worry, be happy' Adios
Love Kpx
P.S to the Benidorm police...
"It wasn't me!" (".)

Kimberly McGuire

Thanks to everyone at C.N.H.S for making my years here worthwhile. I've had some good times and some bad times but I'll never forget this place. It's been great!!
Luv Kim
xxx

Lloyd Orr

That was a long 6 years. By the way capital punishment to all those who offend and oppose me and you will know my name is the Lord when I lay my vengence upon thee.
P.S I love taking walks with a junkie called Fred, who lives on smack, he's very nice.

Stephen Mullarkey

It's been a great six years,
made some awesome friends.
Best time @ CNHS was definitely Study periods with Doris YES MY LIKE IT! She needs to come back to reality, I'll see you in my office at 9 am sharp to start your therapy Doris. Good luck to everyone keep in touch . Thanks bye!
~Ste~

Claire Paterson

Well I was going to try to come up with some witty profound reflection on my time at CNHS but if you look at my photo you knowit wouldn't wash! Anyway it's been great, miss you all!

Chris Paton

Well, it's finally here, I have to go into the BIG BAD WORLD, cheers for the time I spent here, remember THEY ARE WATCHING YOU!!
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.....JOHN
SWEENEY. CIAO!

Jordan Perry

Hola Amigos, Thanx to all my friends for laughing with and at me, stay blonde.
Good Luck!
Lots of love
x Jordan x

Anthony Poutney
CNHS has been great (BAAH!) At CNHS I found out what a spider does. Do you know what spider does? Mon the luf young team, Norwich city forever. Am away to get ssteaming on cchicken, you'll find me and ma pals on Argyle street wanting a cup of tea.

Kelly Ann Tyler

Well Guys + Gals who would have thought we would have lasted this long. Now it's time to PARTY!!! Franklyns on friday then?? Seriously I loved saying i was at CNHS, but I love it even more saying A've left.
Love ye and miss ye all x

Kevin Roberts

Burger Van farewell, adieu -
So many years, so many square sausages, so many lost periods of Maths, drowned in a caffeine haze.

Jennifer Weir

Thanks to everyone for making it a great 6 years. It's been tough, but very enjoyable.

Where do we start? The phantom ceilidh in November when the Band forgot to arrive or was it someone forgot to book the band? Well that led to Mrs Boyd and Mrs Harris doing a fine impression of Mission Impossible as they broke their way into the school in search of a disco. The upper school managed to grit the old teeth and a riot was averted.

As a reward we were granted a second do in late January and this time the guys didn't look like plonkers in their Kilts as we had a good ol fashioned knees up. Although the late arrival of the football team provided the event with a bunch of guys who looked like redundant bouncers.

All in all though both events will live long in the memory. Next year? Mark Burns in a kilt - don't go there honeeeeeey!!!!

The Crimbo celebrations were a stunning success with Mikey Devine and Luke Leggat strutting their stuff. Gemma Higgins and Kirsty Murphy blamin' it all on the boogie, while the Lower school spent the evening comparing dresses and workin' out whose voice was ready to break. The star of the show was Sandi Brown who took in all the parties and perfected her skills as a cradle snatcher. Ooooooh Sandi!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Football

Football

Once again a busy year with teams at under 18, 16, 15, 14, and 13 for boys and under 18 and 14 for girls.

A mixture of success. The under 18 boys are runaway winners of their league section, are still in the Lanarkshire cup and reached the quarter-finals of the Scottish Shield. The under 16 squad lost 3-2 on an away day Oban (Shield holders) in the last 16 and have reached the quarter finals of the Lanarkshire cup.

The under 15 team are unbeaten in the league and reached the quarter finals of the Scottish Shield. The under 14 and under 13 squads are third in their leagues.

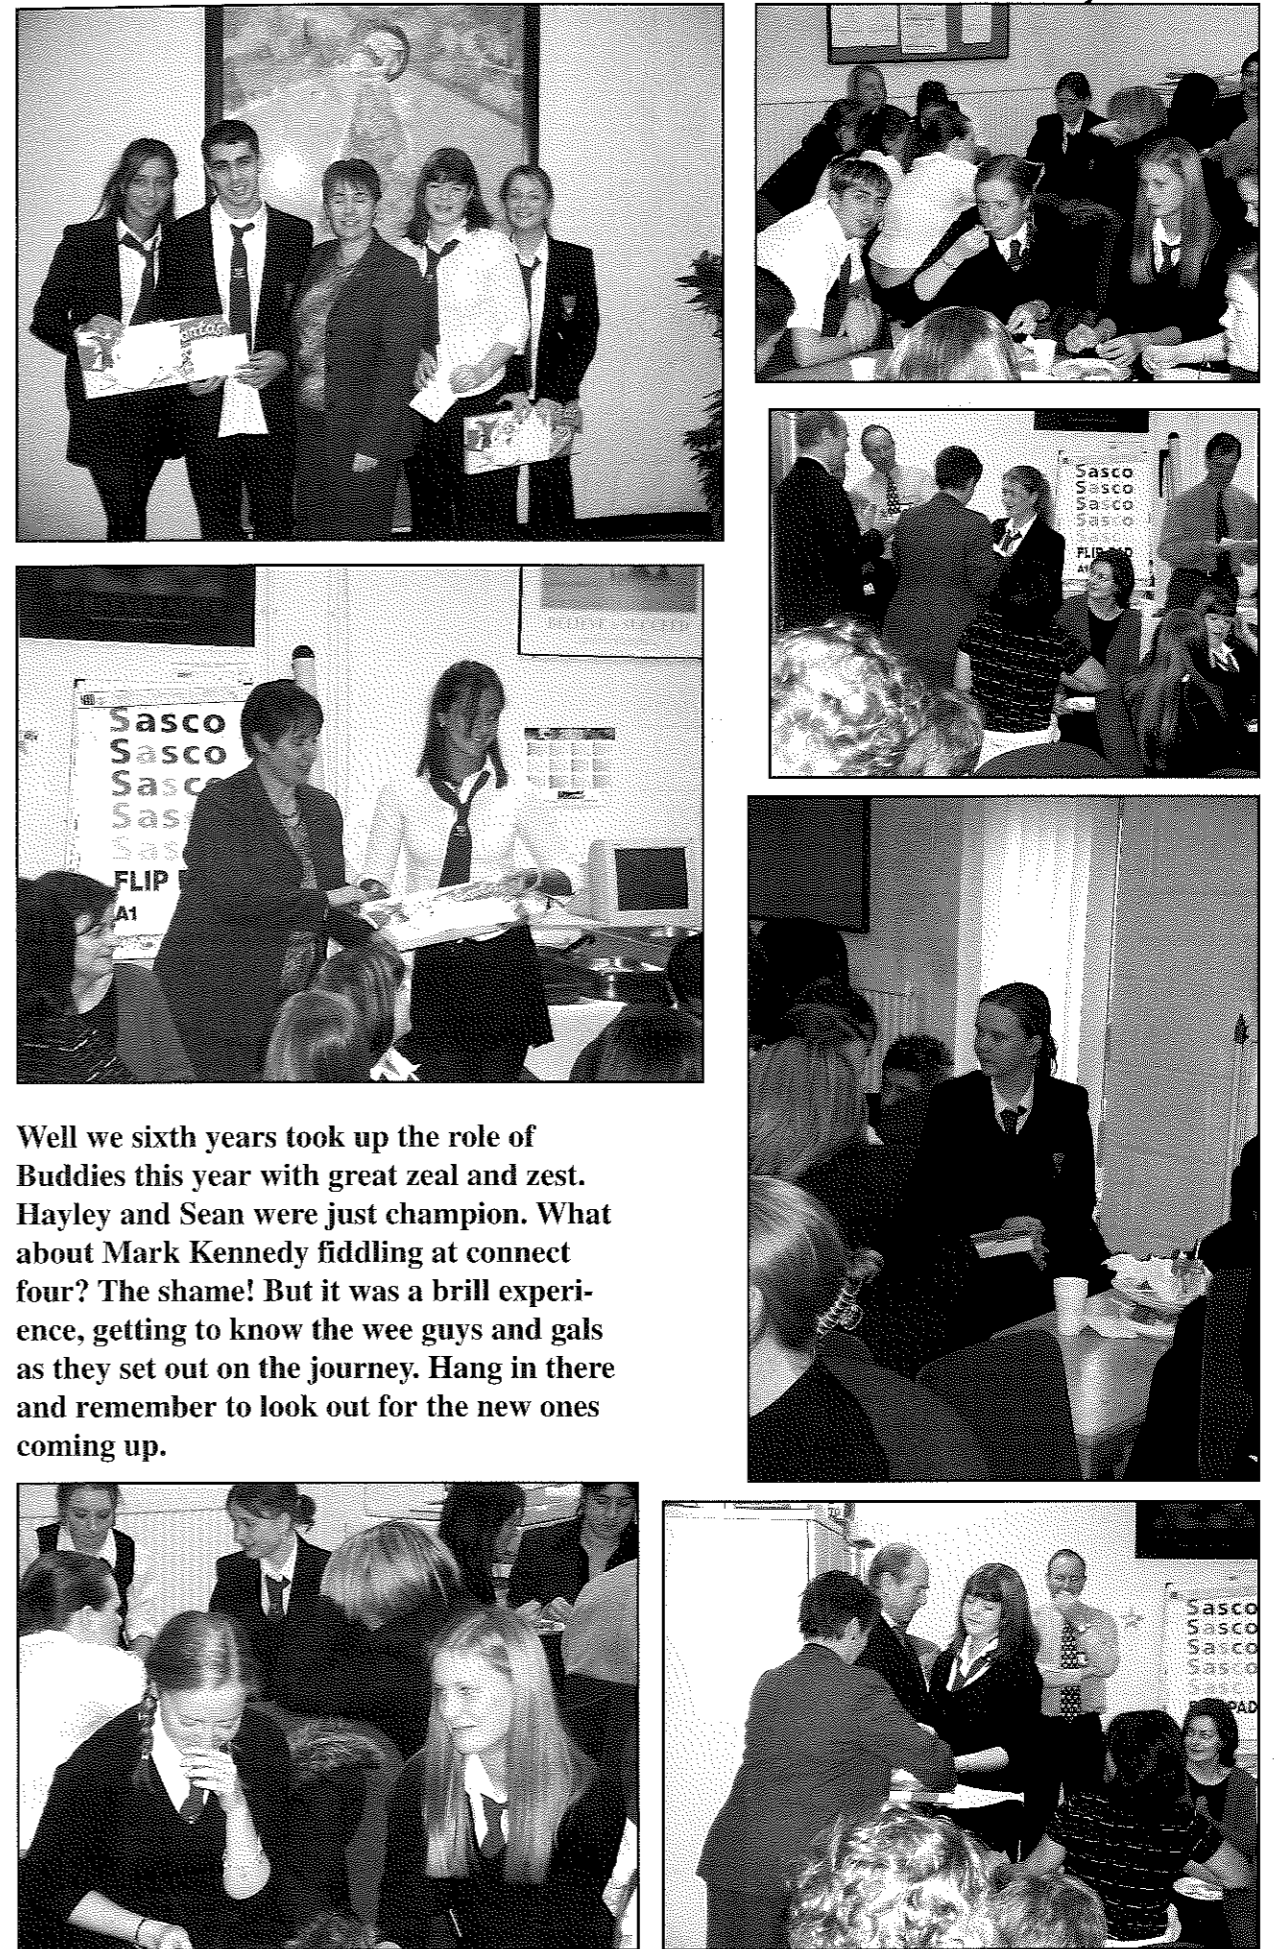

The girls successes have been in the Lanarkshire 5-a-sides and the Coca-Cola 7s, where they finished second and have qualified for the regional finals. Senior pupils Chris Lafferty, Anthony Poutney and Chris Buckley have represented Lanarkshire Schools as have S3 pupils; Anton O' Brien and Darren Lygate.

Buddy Club

Buddy Club

Well we sixth years took up the role of Buddies this year with great zeal and zest. Hayley and Sean were just champion. What about Mark Kennedy fiddling at connect four? The shame! But it was a brill experience, getting to know the wee guys and gals as they set out on the journey. Hang in there and remember to look out for the new ones coming up.

Dr Disco

Dr Disco

Cardinal Newman marked its Silver Jubilee with another all-singing, all-dancing summer show, penned by the precocious Mr Mooney with the able assistance of that veritable pantomime dame, Mr Quick-as-you-like Morrison.

Doctor Disco celebrated twenty-five years of shocking fashion faux pas and camper than Butlins disco divas in a time-travelling extravaganza of music and song.

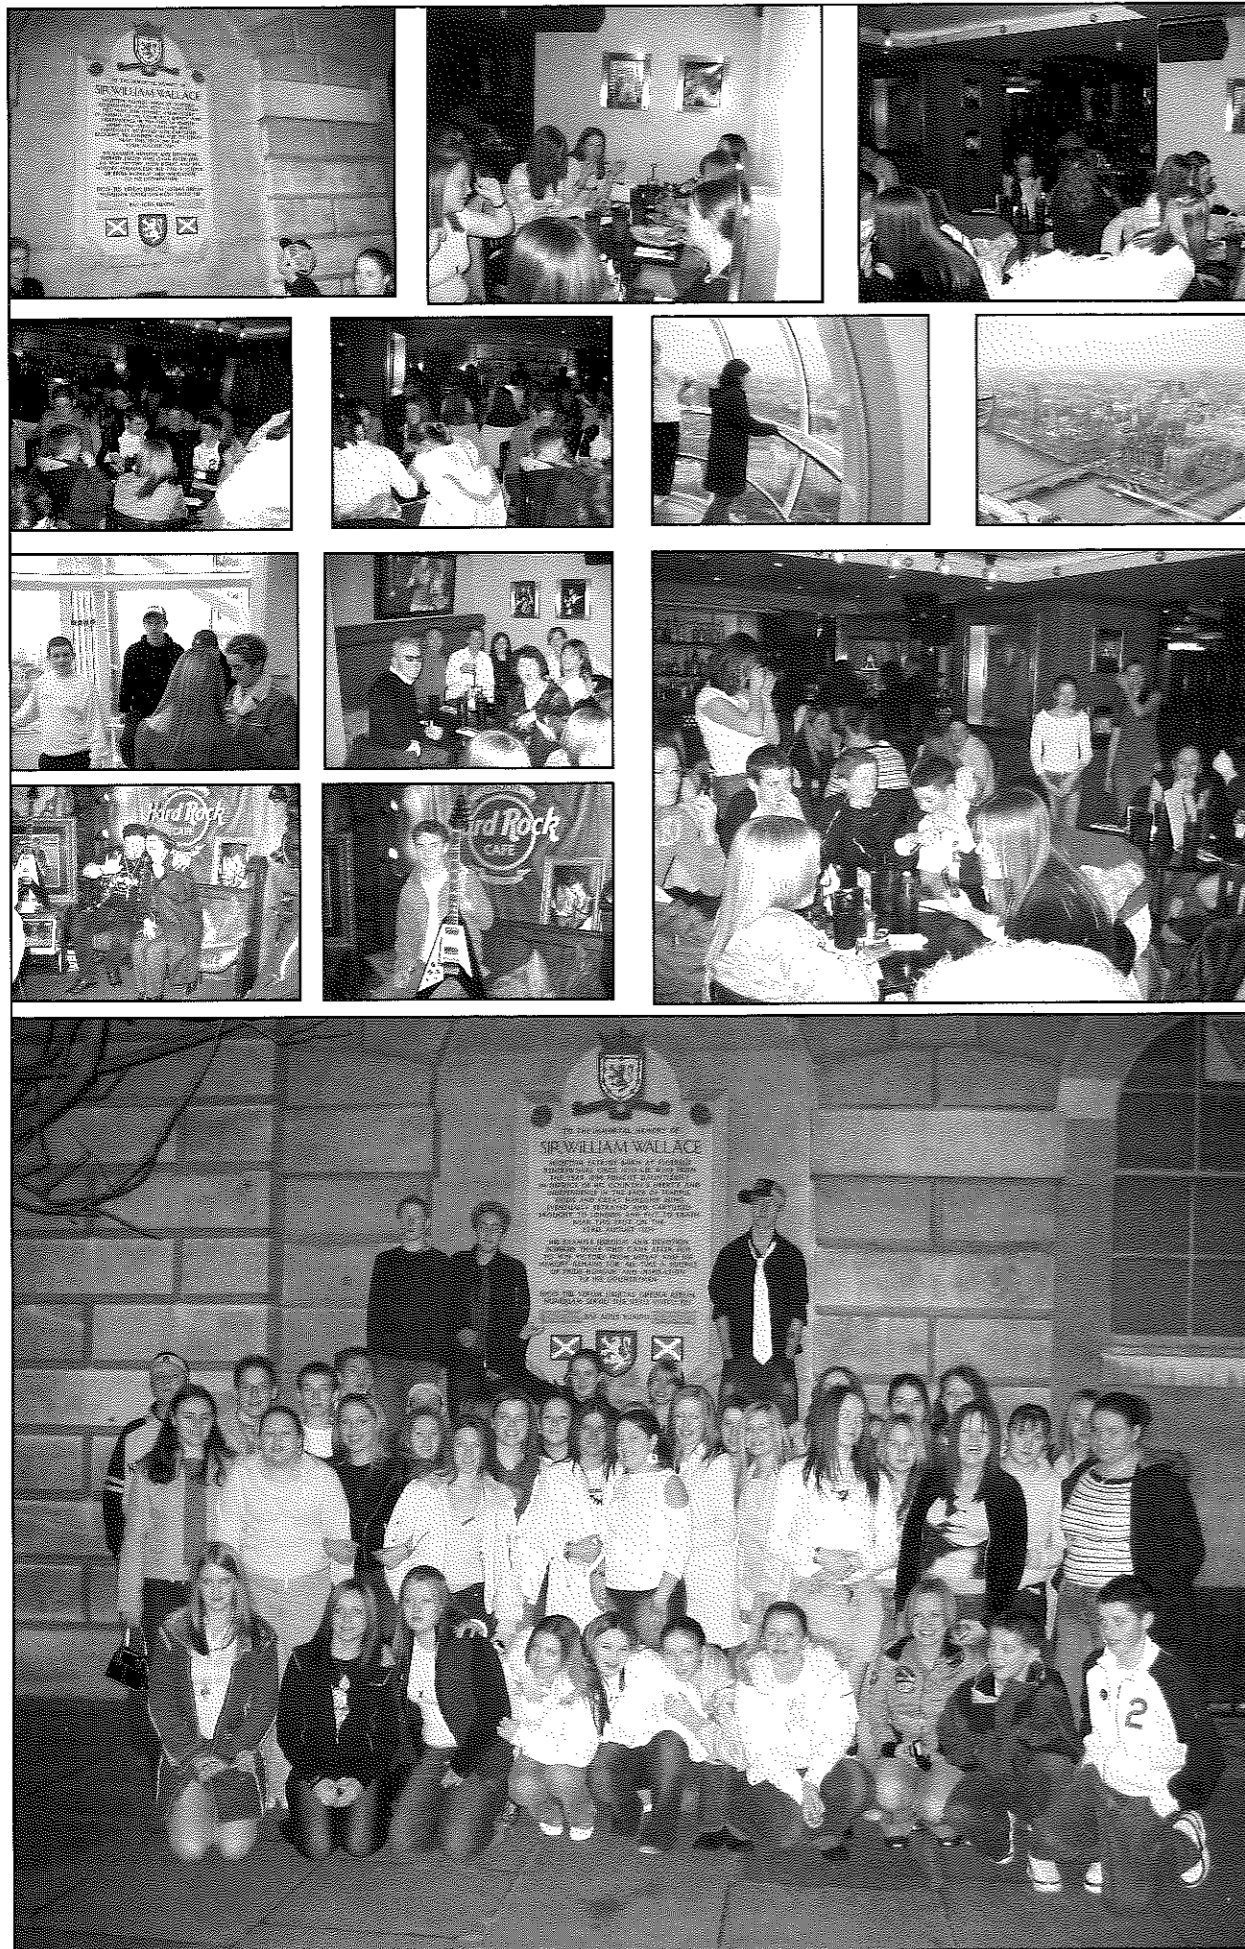

His outrageous plan was to build the Momma and Poppa of all discotheques on the site we have come to know and love as CNHS.

Kevin McCabe and Mark O'Raw shared the evil-doing as our eponymous villain, thwarted by a gang of work experience jannies, the Village People, Abba, the Jackson Five and, of course, Elvis Presley.

Dozens of pupils from across the school either performed onstage or backstage, with valuable help from dozens of members of staff.

Who will ever forget the wee boy in the front row pointing to the stage as the show took us back the mid-fifties and saying, "I didn't know Mr McCue was alive in those days. He looks so young."

February in CNHS means London Time. We met at the school before heading through the night to London. Took about an hour to load the bags. The boys were on the bus in about 5 minutes. We had 3 new teachers making the trip for the first time. Mrs Dirrim, Mrs McGhee and young Mr McCue. Most of the pupils had to listen to one of Marianne's space stories.

We arrived at the Hotel in the morning and unloaded the bags. We also took the suitcases up to the rooms. Pupils seemed surprised at the luxury. Beds in every room! We went for a long walk across Hyde Park and then onto the Tube, Mrs McGhee's nemesis. That evening we went to Deep Pan Pizza and Whitleys for shopping.

The next morning we went for a long walk to Madame Tussauds. Tom Jones is James McGuire. Did anyone see the 'serial killers' or was it really Jamie and the boys. Then we went for TexMex and shopping at Harrods and Oxford St. The evening was spent at the Phoenix with the Blood Brothers. "Have you ever heard the story of the Thompson Twins?"

Sunday morning we went to the Brompton Oratory. Mid-morning was spent at the Campden Market. Afternoon at Covent Garden.

After our evening bus tour we went for dinner to the Hard Rock Cafe. Where we also toured the vaults. "Ma name's Jimmy fae the Saltmarket".

Late evening was at (outside) the AFTA BAFTA PARTY. Was Mr McCue star struck or what?

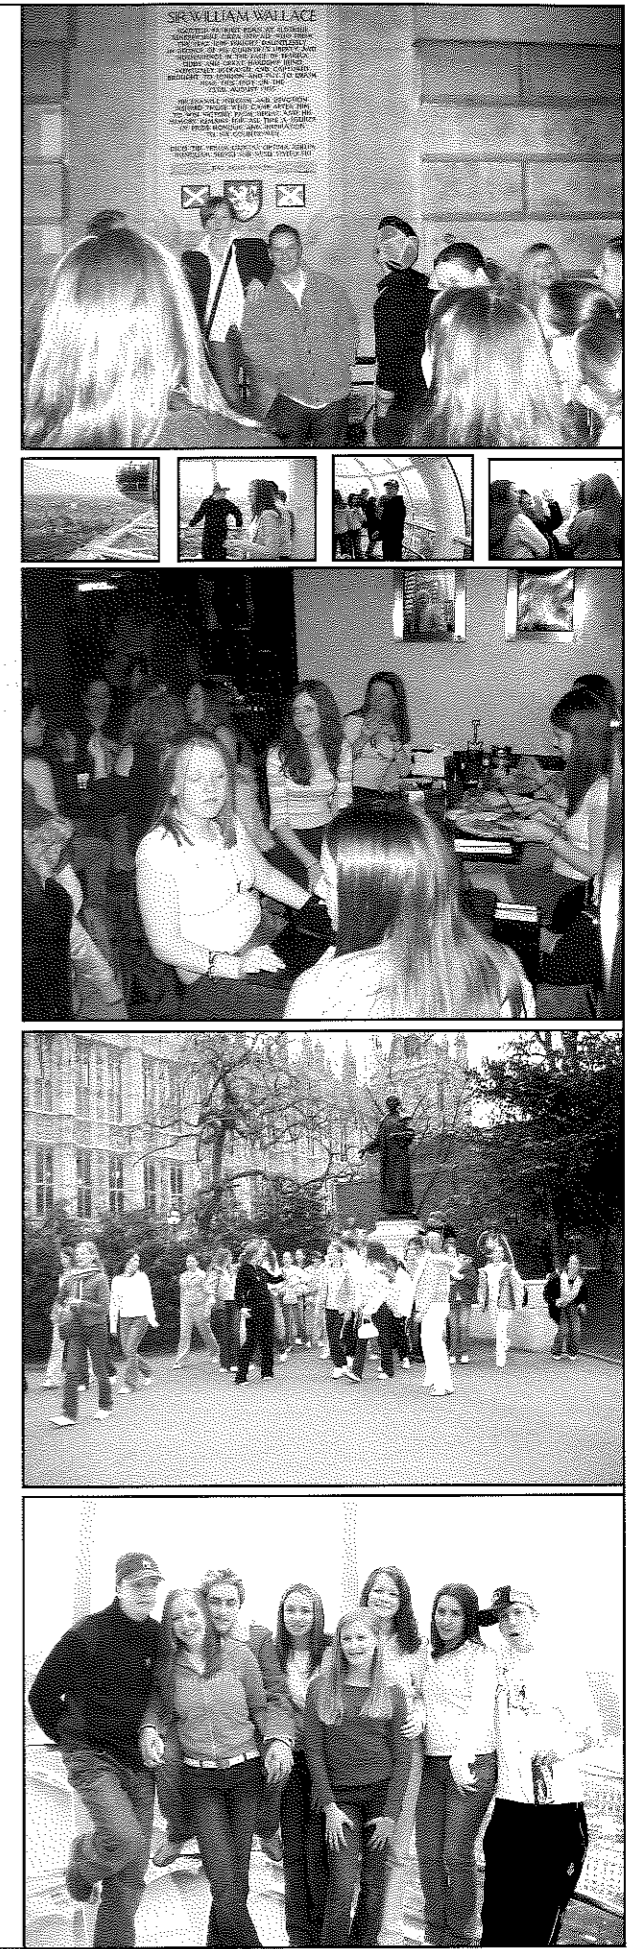

Bed late, up early.

Our final day came too quickly, with a trip to the Commons and a spin on the Millennium Wheel. Now, it was back to Bonnie Scotland.

Next day pupils off, teachers in.

This was one of the best groups ever. The pupils were a credit to themselves, their families and the school.

Well done and ew hope to see some of you next year!

Slave Auction

Slave Auction

Who will ever forget that post-ironic event of the slave auction when the term pc was finally put to bed?

With Mr Snee our very own 'cheap as chips' auctioneer leading a theatre full of bargain-hunters.

Mr Egan found himself on the end of a measly bid from a group of second years and was forced to hang around the street. He seemed quite at home.

Mr Morrison was slightly more expensive, hunted by a group of S5 who fleeced him silly at McDonalds.

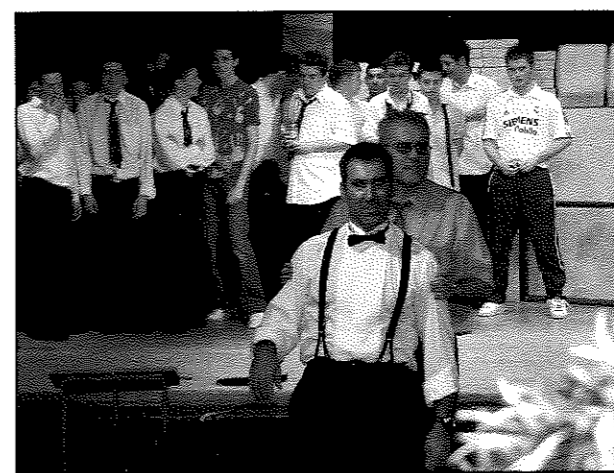

A bunch of slabbering S1 girls purchased Mr Bradshaw and then spent the day receiving oxygen from paramedics.

Wee Joe McMillen and John Lammey managed to scrape together enough barr's bottles to buy Hayley Boyd. Ooooooh the hormones.

Mr Greer couldn't resist Ms Rice in the french maid costume. "Twenty quid for a cheap thrill!" A wee first year exclaimed.

"You'll get used to it." Sighed Sandi Brown.

Bargain of the day goes to the High Heid yin who snapped up Cruickshanks and McParland and forced them to learn and perform some seriously dodgy fogley music.

The Essential Survival Guide

James Strain - Hair gel, comb, loads of B.O spray, don't be a stranger and don't tell anyone yer maws name. Stephanie Leggan - Be confident, It will get you places!

Jonathan Murphy - Always use your rear-view mirror.

Robert Gilmour - You MUST maximise your use of sarcasm, it is your only line of defense agaisnt WILD TEACHERS and RABID PUPILS

Mark Downey - If you doubt your courage or your strength, come no further, for death awaits you all with nasty, big point sharp teeth

Andrew Brawley - Remember you'll never walk alone

Pauline Holmes -Super noodles do no wrong! There is an endless supply in locker no.13 code 31-21-15

Jordan Perry - Keep Smiling!

Anthony Poutney - To make it through CNHS go see spring roll Bobby

Dean Williams - Don't take life too seriously, relax every once in a while

Chris Buckley - If the vندی doesn't work kick it twice

Avaleinne Wilkie - Just enjoy your time at CNHS and have a laugh, it's not as if you need to do well! Do you?

Anthony Martin- Duck and cover, that stops everything, even lava.

Jamie Friel - beware of celeste. Hide the chips and bolt! The shop at pacitis is good and the chiefys rule!

Michael Crosby- A word of warning, hell is other peoples trousers.

Katie Paterson -Have a break, have a KITKAT!!!

Carolann Dempsey - for any chance of a life never, ever join the band!

Ross Menzies - Listen hen theres no point in trying, keep 3 sly-bricks in your back pocket incase of any trouble.

The Essential Survival Guide

Nicholas Cooney - Go up the red stairway. Past english and onto the roof. There you will find a small man who looks not unlike a gnome. He will give you precious pearls of wisdom, probably in exchange for some general roof maintenance

Jane McGranaghan - Short Skirts, ability to flirt, tie at half mast and the all important knee high socks WITH TANNED LEGS!

Danielle McGranaghan - Chocolate, friends, gossip, lip gloss, eye liner, boys the cafeterias caramel cake...oh the list is endless

Jonathan Connely - Don't eat yellow snow

Laura Hughes - If you see Mr McGill, Bolt!

Kelly Anne Tyler - Have a good sense of humour. A party every weekend helps too! And lots of Chocolate!

Stephen Mullarkey - Find yourself somegood friends for some great times, you need to have your mobile with you no matter what and most importantly just have a laugh!

William George - Get in Mrs Boyd's good books!

Davy Devine - Learn these three phrases : 1. I don't know. 2. It was like that when I got here. 3. I was out of the country at the time.

Chris Lester - Annoy as many teachers as possible

Chris Daly - If you want to enjoy high school then avoid biology because it's a mock science!

Mark McCool - Don't get on the wrong side of fast Eddie

Tony Cull - You should try to make friends with Mr Pettigrew, he will show you the way of success and spiritual enlightenment

Paula Mulraney - Party on a tuesday, monster cheese salad roll on a wednesday, have a pal who can write a note on the thursday, Thanx fo (don't think the eva got a real 1) n remember if guidance ask, u were @ the dentist

Johann Duffy-Lots of friends and a good sense of humour

Amanda Lightbody - Be a sweetie, it's the best way to be!

David Halliday - Finish your work quickly and you're allowed up to the pool on the roof. Doon the green toilets if you're hookin up wae a wee burd. AYE ye know what i mean?

A Final Word

Ok. Well here we are at the end with another fine example of how you can look back at the previous yearbook and make it look so much better. Thanks to the school first and foremost for the allocation of funds without which, you would be reading a double sided piece of A4 with the words CNHS Year book and a few doodles of some students and teachers. Thanks to Mr Greer and Mr Mooney who once again have taken it on their shoulders to motivate us to get everything done...and when I say motivate I mean they held a gun to our heads. Good luck to the younger students at the school with becoming the people they were born to be and Good Luck to the next committee in their attempt to beat the year before them - and also with putting up with Mooney and Greer. Beware the people you see below are not really us, they are imposters. Goodluck and Goodbye!

*Forget Kylie. Forget Hollyoaks. Forget Celtic FC.
The official calendar hanging on your wall should be CNHS senior squad.*

*Not only does it have glossy pin-ups of all your fave SMTers.
It has a bundle of facts and info on their likes and dislikes.*

*Learn about Crazy November's addiction to bingo? House!
Or what about Ms June and her wild-life shenanigans? Baaa!
Then there's Mad March and his collection of Sea-shells -OOh arrrr!
Frisky Feb writes about his love of pond-life, still curious?
Well wait to you discover Mental May and his Tree hugging friends. Mmm.
Or find out about Jammy January's marmalade habit. Tasty!*

Never again forget those Monday DMs or indeed that it's in fact a schoolday.

*(Special edition includes recipe page courtesy of Rab's burger van.)
Get the dosh in now. Only five pounds.*
