

1	anonymous	I feel the support has been good so far. I would not be happy if all the work provided was online RESPONSE – Based on parental feedback and professional judgement a blended mixture of online and jotter tasks is planned.
2	anonymous	My laptop in the house is old and therefore I don't have access to all the latest systems. It can also be slow. I also have more than one child which can make accessing online difficult. Also, perhaps laying out a timetable and asking children to follow it where possible would be beneficial? RESPONSE We are aware that some parents may find a timetable restrictive when they are also working from home and may need to be flexible regarding the times they can help their child. However we can put forward a timetable with the advice that people should use this if it is helpful but to ignore it if it doesn't suit their family circumstances.
3	anonymous	We have really appreciated all the help and support from staff during this time. Just a wee note to say thanks from the Doherty's. RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
4	anonymous	Thanks for the support offered so far, it's greatly appreciated. We have struggled to get through the work as we are both still working full time, but we are trying our best. As long as Cáobhin is happy and healthy that's all that matters to us, we are trying to make this as fun and as positive for him as we can. RESPONSE Pupil health and wellbeing is of great importance and will help us start from a strong position in August.
5	anonymous	Without it, probably education would come to a stand still so it has been welcomed RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
6	anonymous	The school have been great with their communication. The learning so far has been adequate, we have added other activities ourselves, ie science, craft, electronics. It would be good if these kinds of things could be incorporated so there is a class structured learning of these types of subjects and the children could discuss their findings/ results. RESPONSE Each class will have a STEM subject based topic when we return in August. As they will be back in the building with their classmates they will be able to discuss their findings.
7	anonymous	I feel there definitely needs to be online learning resources in place from August with some tracking system on the children's progress. Online teams with teachers would be great too. RESPONSE As the teachers will be back in the building with their reduced classes they will unfortunately not be available to interact with other pupils online via teams but they will be able to track pupil progress through face to face teaching and pupil completion of associated tasks at home. Sumdog etc. provide evidence of pupil attainment as their scores and level of engagement are visible to teaching staff.

		Online resources will also be used as part of our blended approach
8	anonymous	I am so grateful to all the hard working teachers. Connie has especially enjoyed the videos to watch and join in with, but I have found the option to print out work booklets really useful. I appreciate not everyone has access to a printer so a mixed approach would be great. X RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
9	anonymous	I'm concerned and confused about how it's going to work as how can I teach my child when I'm not a teacher and we will also be working. RESPONSE We appreciate this is a concern to many parents which should be reduced in August when children are taught new concepts face to face and the work they bring home is consolidation and practice of that teaching point.
10	anonymous	My concern is my child falling behind as I do struggle to keep on top of the home learning due to still being a work myself, would there be a checking service on what the children are doing at home, as I'm worried it won't be enough to keep them up to date. RESPONSE Teachers will be able to track pupil progress through face to face teaching and pupil completion of associated tasks at home. As they will be seeing their pupils on a twice weekly basis they will set an expectation with each child of what amount of work should be completed at home.
11	anonymous	Some form of structured timetable of learning that child has to follow when home schooling. RESPONSE We are aware that some parents may find a timetable restrictive when they are also working from home and may need to be flexible regarding the times they can help their child. However we can put forward a timetable with the advice that people should use this if it is helpful but to ignore it if it doesn't suit their family circumstances.
12	anonymous	Pictures of classroom layout has been posted on their website which allows parents to see the steps taking so far and help prepare the kids for the new layout. The Headmistress has updated parents that this week they will be look at strategy and risk assessments and I look forward to hearing future updates on how school will work. Currently teachers are communicating via email on glow and have been trying to encourage the kids to keep in touch and ask if they have questions. At the minute because work in revision we have been able to cope but as new learning begins more resources for parents would be helpful. Answer sheets to text book in order for us to quickly mark work as many of us will be working and trying to do school work too. If the school could recommend websites, apps or books that parents could even buy to let them get an understanding on the new learning and how to support that would be great and kids learn in a totally different way than I did at school. From my experience with the school I have trust in all of the staff that they will be doing their very best to support kids and parents when school returns. RESPONSE New learning will be taught face to face by the class teacher so this should reduce the need for parental support. Some upper school maths textbooks

		have the answers at the back and for those that do not we can post a picture of the relevant page from the answer book. Via twitter the school will continue to post links to free websites or resources that have been highlighted as being effective. We unfortunately cannot highlight resources to purchase as this would in effect be advertising.
13	anonymous	It would be good if there could maybe be a Skype or zoom class maybe once or twice a week and maybe daily tasks to make sure are complete online everyday. RESPONSE As the teachers will be back in the building with their reduced classes they will unfortunately not be available to interact with other pupils online in the same manner as when working from home. As they will be seeing their pupils on a twice weekly basis they will set an expectation with each child of what amount of work should be completed at home.
14	anonymous	To give parents some training in how the children are taught maths such as a worksheet with worked examples with the division or multiplication as it would be taught as I worry I am teaching it wrong in some cases . English we have no issues with as literacy is a strength for my child but numeracy is more challenging and I want to be sure I am supporting as best as I can with this. RESPONSE Thank you for this suggestion which we will act upon in August by creating worked examples.
15	anonymous	We feel that at times the volume of work has been excessive. We appreciate that the message has been that not all tasks need to be completed but it would be helpful to get an indication of what tasks should be a priority. RESPONSE Thank you for this suggestion which we will act upon in August by highlighting core learning with a small star or *
16	anonymous	I would like for important tasks to be highlighted so if you are busy with work you can prioritise what really needs to be done on as some weeks it is hard to finish all suggested tasks. Thanks for all support given very much appreciated for our 2 girls! RESPONSE Thank you for this suggestion which we will act upon in August by highlighting core learning with a small star or *
17	anonymous	We think it would have been beneficial for the children to have had some level of online visual contact with the class teacher eg Zoom or Microsoft Teams Meeting RESPONSE Thank you for your input as this is something we will plan for should the schools return to full lockdown in the future. Unfortunately we are not permitted to use zoom as it is not deemed a secure platform by North Lanarkshire Council.
18	anonymous	To provide a schedule of times in which kids have to be online at certain times of day so parents can keep a routine. RESPONSE We are aware that some parents may find a timetable restrictive when they are also working from home and may need to be flexible regarding the times they can help their child. However we can put forward a timetable with the advice that people should use this if it is helpful but to ignore it if it doesn't suit their family circumstances.

19	anonymous	Support has been great so far with call from the kids teacher to check in and also with the workload being uploaded to the website. Although maybe not available for all kids I would suggest that maybe short video calls or messages from the teachers would be good for the kids and will help keep the Teacher/Pupil relationship going. Thanks RESPONSE Thank you for your suggestion. We have tried to phone and text every child's family on more than one occasion during lockdown. Video messages have also been posted on twitter and the school website while class teachers have also been interacting via glow email with their pupils as facilitated by their families.
20	anonymous	I have no access to a printer so there a lot of work i have not been able to do so workbook textbook is better for us. RESPONSE We are creating individual learning packs for every pupil for August. As we will be seeing each child twice weekly for face to face learning there will be opportunities to hand over printed materials as required.
21	anonymous	I would like to take the opportunity to thank Mrs Wilson, Mrs Anderson & Miss Verechia & all the other teaching staff the weekly address to the school from Mrs Wilson with pictures has been lovely & makes us feel connected as part of our lovely school community at Holy Family. Both my Childress teachers have had excellent weekly updates for the kids & was lovely to receive a personal day home call from each to make sure we were all getting on okay & reassure us regarding any work. We hope to see you all soon take care x RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
22	anonymous	Very supportive in every manner! Thank you RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
23	anonymous	We don't have a printer so books would need to be supplied for non online work RESPONSE We are creating individual learning packs for every pupil for August. As we will be seeing each child twice weekly for face to face learning there will be opportunities to hand over printed materials as required.
24	anonymous	I am so glad that the children are getting online work and that has helped them a lot during this lockdown RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
25	anonymous	Is there any way we could do online classes ie using Microsoft teams or Google classroom, RESPONSE As the teachers will be back in the building with their reduced classes they will unfortunately not be available to interact with other pupils online in the same manner as when working from home. As they will be seeing their pupils on a twice weekly basis they will set an expectation with each child of what amount of work should be completed at home.

26	anonymous	The school has done the best with this terrible situation. I appreciate all the work the teachers have done to support the children. RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
27	anonymous	Very pleased with the support from the school staff RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
28	anonymous	Thank you for always keeping us updated. Also telephone call from teacher RESPONSE Thank you for this positive feedback, we are trying hard to work in partnership with you all at this difficult time.
