The Gold Rush

During the year, there have been many fundraising activities and competitions. Above are Melissa and Gillian who won driving lessons in a fundraising raffle and David, Emma, John, Duncan and Alasdair of first year who won the yo-yo competition. Below shows a group of crazy sixth years who did a 10km fun run to raise money for the Strathcarron Hospice. Well done to everyone featured on the page!

Gemma G samples the delicacies of McDonalds

One Monday afternoon early in November every member of the S6 General Studies group (and others) set out on a journey they will never forget: The Great Escape (to McDonalds). The 10 mile sponsored walk from Kilsyth to Cumbernauld (and back!) was undertaken to raise money to fund the yearbook. The walk however proved too much for some trekkers who decided that public transport was a better escape. Lunch at McDonalds was a delight in itself. Then it was time to return; almost everyone did thanks to Miss Mitchell cracking her whip at the back and Mr Tolmie's endless supply of Jellybabies.

THE SOUND

Nuns, Nazis, a family of mischievous children and two people destined to fall in love. Yes, it has to be "The Sound of Music" which was last year's school show at the Academy. With the success of previous years, it was always going to be hard to match those standards. But with a talented cast, lots of hard work and an experienced group of teacher producers, we managed to produce our most popular show to date.

OF MUSIC

Far Left: The backstage crew who kept the show running smoothly.

Its a Won

Whether it was the festive season or the prospect of dancing with the likes of Mr Dougan and Mr MacRae that made everyone flock to the Christmas discos, we're not sure. But whatever it was everyone had a great time and it certainly was one to remember!

Great Expectations

The weeks leading up to the Christmas concert are always fraught. Pupils miss rehearsals without telling anyone, pieces haven't been learned properly, the band sounds awful, Irene has mislaid her euphonium again and Miss Scott shows her artistic temperament by shouting at us and telling us the concert's off - again! But then everyone gives up lunchtimes, evenings and Sundays and braves the terrors of a weekend at Castle Toward - and the concert is the best ever!

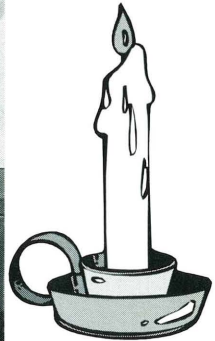

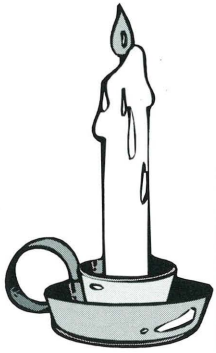

Everyone smiles sweetly as Miss Scott threatens to cancel the concert for the nineteenth time

A Christmas Carol

Miss Scott, Miss King, 90 pupils and a partridge in a pear tree hit all the right notes in this year's Christmas concert. The band played magnificently and the choir sang like angels. It was hailed as "one of the best concerts yet!" and an entertaining evening was had by all.

Dangerous Minds

Kilsyth Academy, back in the dock... Last November, for the second year, Kilsyth participated in the Bar National Mock Trial. Once again we performed well but suffered a great injustice when we missed out on the grand final, in London, by half a point. However, no doubt KALAW will be back next year with another astounding case.

House Party

This year it was decided to introduce more non-sport house events in order to include more people. The first of these events was a trivia quiz for first year. The event proved very popular and pictured here is the winning house Balmalloch with some of their supporters.

This year the geography department organised a geography quiz for all of second year. Again this was a house event and the individual winners are shown on the right. From left to right: Ross Steele (Garrell), Evelyn Connell (Balmalloch), Erin Thomson (Monieburgh) and Heather Milne (Monieburgh).

Crazy

Looks like Cilla is going to need a new hat!

On the 22nd of December our annual crazy day came around again. As well as the usual technical carnival, there were many new activities such as line dancing and throwing beanbags at the headship team, which proved very popular. In the afternoon we were stunned by the teachers as they put on productions of 'The Price is Right' and 'Blind Date'. Overall the day raised £516.27 which went to Kosovo and many other charities.

Hupla Hupla

Fancy Footwork

All the fun of the carnival

Hands up, baby, hands up!

People

The next Ally McCoist... perhaps

180!!

Oh what beautiful music

What sort of talent do you call this?

Dead Poet's

Iain Brown piped in the haggis with Irene in tow

Hayley Boyle and Joanne Millar provided part of the evening's musical entertainment

Alistair Hawthorn gave his address to the haggis

We had the usual 2 hour speech from Mr Dougan...

...with which he had the audience captivated in deep thought, or were we trying to figure out his jokes?

Left: Mr McGhee gave his immortal memory toast, but mostly talked about women's underwear.

Society

Mr Denovan in the midst of his rather energetic recitation

Douglas then proceeds to amuse us all (or is that insult us all?) with his "Toast To the Lassies"

On the 28th of January, it was time again for Mr Denovan to get out his novelty tie and for Mr Dougan to find some more hilarious(?) jokes to amuse everyone at the Burns Supper. It was Douglas Wright's task to give his "Toast to the Lassies", although he had stolen most of his jokes from a primary school Burns Supper! Diane Wilson gave her "Reply from the Lassies" and she seemed to be on first name terms with all the teachers, referring to Mrs McKenna as "Mighty Mo!" A word perfect recital of 'Tam o' Shanter' was provided by Mr Denovan who excelled himself yet again.

Diane Wilson certainly gave us all a laugh with her "Reply From the Lassies"....

with the exception of Mr Black who remained singularly unimpressed

There was musical entertainment from Hayley Boyle and Joanne Millar as well as the Currah who played and sang some excellent Scottish songs, ending with an energetic rendition of "Auld Land Syne".

They're laughing at you Mr McGhee, not with you!

Left: The Currah playing traditional songs which had us dancing on our seats (literally!)

As Good As It Gets

Tracey and Claire get all tied up whilst taking class photographs

I'm gonna get some hot stuff baby this evening!

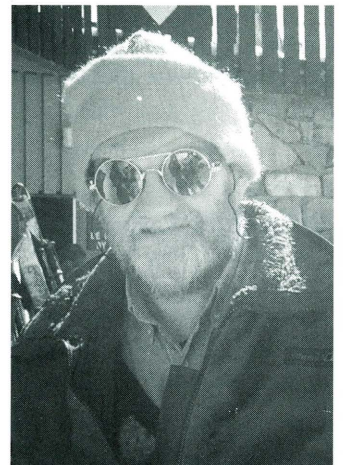

"Ok, can you look at the camera now please?" Sometimes year groups can be a little un-cooperative

"Did I ever tell you about the time I played for Scotland?" - Yeah right Dave!

All I need now is a skipping rope

Mr Robertson looking hip and happening!

City of Angels

To fit in with our film theme, we asked “friends” of all our sixth year students to pick an appropriate film title for each person. We also asked them to explain their choices. The titles and the explanations are on the next few pages...

Karen Anderson

Film Title: I Flunked, but ...

For all those hours Karen complains about having failed her exams only to be pleasantly surprised when she gets straight A's.

Rachel Alford

Film Title: Little Voice

You can always hear Rachel before you can see her.

Hayley Boyle

Film Title: Charlie and the Chocolate Factory

Hayley would be an ideal oompa - loompa, with the exception of the green hair and orange skin, of course.

David Barrie

Film Title: Toy Story

He would be Buzz Lightyear because he has the same face and features as Buzz as well as the same walk with the hands on the hips and without bending his knees.

Mellissa Brand

Film Title: Fame

Our Drama Queen's enthusiasm for amateur dramatics could lead to her big break.

Ruth Burton

Film Title: Jaws

Do we have to ask!!! She searches out her prey then doesn't let go for at least 45 minutes of talking... or is it.

Irene Calderwood

Film Title: Brassed Off

Obviously because Irene plays a brass instrument. However double meaning: Bras - off is even more appropriate after a recent incident in Mrs McKenna's office.

Paul Cameron

Film Title: Herbie Goes Bananas

If Paul isn't talking, walking and dreaming cars, then it must be love.

Adele Campbell

Film Title: Gulliver's Travels

From what we hear yours are better, eh Adele!

Rhianna Carr

Film Title: Calamity Jane

Rhianna would be the perfect Calamity Jane because trouble follows her wherever she goes.

Niki Cassels

Film Title: Titanic

This is due to her love of boats and certain people who sail them!!

Gillian Crawford

Film Title: Alice in Wonderland

Gillian would play the role of the White Rabbit because she can always be heard shouting "I'm late, I'm late for a meeting with my mates!"

Claire Derrick

Film Title: Grease

Claire would make a good "Frenchie" as both are friendly, always cheerful, outgoing, ambitious and chatty.

Lorraine Docherty

Film Title: Fever Pitch

Lorraine thinks that men in shorts are always the best.

Jane Dowell

Film Title: 12 Angry Men

We heard their girlfriends were even angrier!

Mhairi Drummond

Film Title: Look who's Talking

She is always talking, even when she doesn't have anything to say!

Jillian Dunlop

Film Title: Beethoven

Because of her puppy-dog eyes and love of pooches.

Kenna Dunne

Film Title: The Net

Kenna is a whizz kid with computers! We don't know if Mr Sharkey would agree but if you need anything from the net then Kenna's your gal.

Elaine Erskine

Film Title: The Third Man

Go on Elaine, just make it three!

Scott Fitzpatrick

Film Title: Scream

Scott's weird interest in horror films and anything strange leaves his associates screaming!!!

Gordon Gelsthorpe

Film Title: Psycho

Gordon's psychotic qualities make him stand out from the crowd - and you have to be mad to apply for physics at university!

Paul Gilmour

Film Title: Dick Tracy

This is because he is so slick with his gelled back hair and long yellow jacket.

Gemma Gordon

Film Title: Wall Street

Gemma G, head of the buisness team for the yearbook, assures us that the yearbook funds are safely resting in a Swiss bank account. Ooh, ah just a little white lie we think!

Graeme Harper

Film Title: Titanic

Perhaps because he looks like Leonardo Di Caprio!

Alastair Hawthorn

Film Title: Austin Powers

This would be Alastair's ideal film as he never shuts up about it.

Clare Hetherington

Film Title: Lost in Space

Because Clare spends, up to 12 hours a day day-dreaming, and 13 hours if she has double maths.

Allan Hill

Film Title: Flubber

He is such a great invention!

Lisa Irvine

Film Title: Guys and Dolls
Because she is always dolled up to get the guys.

Christopher Jardine

Film Title: A Christmas Carol
He is Scrooge as he never ever shares anything or gives money to the needy.

Vicky Johnson

Film Title: Speed
Vicky is such a bad driver. To her credit she can rattle off the internal workings of a car engine but the little things like why you get a ticket for doing 60mph in a build up area, she doesn't quite grasp. Watch out pedestrians!

Alison Jordan

Film Title: McKenna's Gold
Because Alison is the creme de la creme of the SYS maths class. 73% pure gold!

Mohan Lota

Film Title: The Quiet Man
Mohan is not known as the resident chatterbox. In fact, quite the opposite.

Timothy Latham

Film Title: Any zombie movie such as "Return of the Living Dead" as they match his morbid sense of humour.

Joanne MacLure

Film Title: Saturday Night Fever
Joanne is quiet and inconspicuous during the week but when Saturday arrives she comes alive and all the guys go home with a fever.

Lynsey MacGregor

Film Title: Great Expectations
Mr Stirling has great aspirations for Lynsey's future as a world renowned artist.

Tracey McAulay

Film Title: Cinderella
You shall go to the ball Tracey...when David stops playing champ manager.

Ross McCaffer

Film Title: Top Gun
A Goose lookalike??

Lynsey McCready
Film Title: Hidden Agenda
 What does Lynsey do up in the art rooms all day???

Linsay McDonald
Film Title: Spice World
 Linsay is Ginger Spice because of her red hair and out of school she is full of "Girl Power".

Stacy McGill

Film Title: Bigfoot and the Hendersons. You can see Stacy's feet coming round a corner ten minutes before the rest of her. The McGills found her in Alder Woods, took pity on her and found a shoe specialist to protect the world from her big pungent feet.

Steven McGregor
Film Title: Dennis
 The boyish blonde who can't stay out of mischief.

Debbie McIntyre
Film Title: Mannequins on the Move
 Debbie glides with style and grace from place to place.

Alexa McKay
Film Title: Godzilla
 Her roar is enough to make people keep their distance when she stomps around.

Chris McMahan
Film Title: Much Ado About Nothing
 Chris manages to make a mountain out of every molehill.

Katy McNiven
Film Title: Kiss Me Kate
 Wherever she goes, boys seem to shout this.

Louise McPhilemy
Film Title: Curly Sue
 Louise's long curly hair makes this title self explanatory.

Karen McWilliam
Film Title: Dirty Dancing
 Shall we just say she doesn't look innocent when dancing!

Joanne Millar

Film Title: Aladdin

Joanne is Jasmine as she is independent, opinionated, and hates feeling trapped - meaning she likes her freedom. She speaks her mind, is honest and looks a bit like her too.

Gordon Miller

Film Title: Rush Hour

Gordon can be seen traversing the streets of Milton of Campsie in his wee red cor.

Sara Muir

Film Title: Silence of the Lambs

Will she, won't she tell him? Our Sara does love little lambs.

Graeme Patrick

Film Title : When Dinosaurs Ruled The Earth...

Graeme was still a cynic even then.

Grant Richardson

Film Title : When Saturday Comes..

You'll find Grant in front of goal about to strike.

Kerri Rose

Film Title: Gone With the Wind

Her notable absence makes the title self explanatory.

David Ross

Film Title: Jumpin' Jack Flash

Now you see him, now you don't. David's a hard man to catch.

David Ross

Film Title: Space Jam

David has a hidden love for basketball so would be happy to star in this film.

Scott Shephard

Film Title: The Silencers

What can we say, Scott doesn't.

Sarah Singleton

Film Title: Picture Perfect

Sarah is always looking in the mirror to make sure she looks just right.

Lynsey Smith

Film Title: Cool Runnings
Lynsey can be seen running through the corridors...to catch her beloved Allan.

Christine Smithson

Film Title: Interview with a Vampire
After a brief encounter with a man from a rick-shaw, Christine looked as if she'd had more than just an interview...

Gemma Stevenson

Film Title: Rocky Horror Picture Show

She is sometimes a bit strange and always with a wacky sense of humour.

Kristin Stewart

Film Title: Clueless

Not only is it her favourite film, but she has a habit of saying "whatever" at every opportunity.

Karen Templeton

Film Title: Carry on Camping

She always seems to be going camping and goodness knows what she gets up to!

Lynsey Stewart

Film Title: Candyman

She likes to ruin other peoples sweeties.

Diane Wilson

Film Title: The French Connection

Style, grace, glamour and fashion describe Diane. Her "C'est la vie!" attitude drives staff wild, but she is Brie at heart.

Ruth Whyte

Film Title: A Few Good Men

They were nice weren't they.

David Winning

Film Title: Popeye

Well if he insists on calling his girlfriend Olive Oyl...

Douglas Wright

Film Title: Backbeat

Because of the genuine Beatles Hairdo.

Mission Impossible

Producing a yearbook really is the next thing to "Mission Impossible". It involves so many different skills - from photography to computing, from writing to artwork, from accounting to advertising - and all under severe pressure to meet deadlines. Although a large team works towards the book, the final stages of production become highly specialised and a small number work through holidays, after school and at every available moment between classes. This year, the editors and final team were Christine Smithson, Diane Wilson, Kenna Dunne and Vicky Johnson. We also for the first time appointed a business manager, Gemma Gordon, and she led a highly successful team. Well done to all!
