M and Henchmen

Each edition of the Yearbook adds a further chapter to the history of Kilsyth Academy as well as providing a nostalgic reference for years to come. Once again I write the foreword having been very impressed by the level of commitment and dedication shown by the entire team and I would like to congratulate them all on a wonderful achievement.

Front row left to right:
Mr McKay,
Mr Mitchell.

Mr Mitchell: An unsuspected danger, he has stealth, charisma, a winning smile and is often spotted silently stalking the corridors of Kilsyth Academy.

Mr MacRae: Renowned for instilling fear into unsuspecting 6th years with incomplete UCAS forms. It has been rumoured he can pick off victims from 60 paces.

Mr McKay: His style makes him unmistakable with cartoon character ties, slicked back hair and an impressive physique - what a lady killer!

Mrs Kubica: Her Bond-girl attitude and position of authority make her very dangerous - requires close observation.

Mrs Stewart: A new addition to the Board. Weaknesses as yet unknown.

IT BETTER

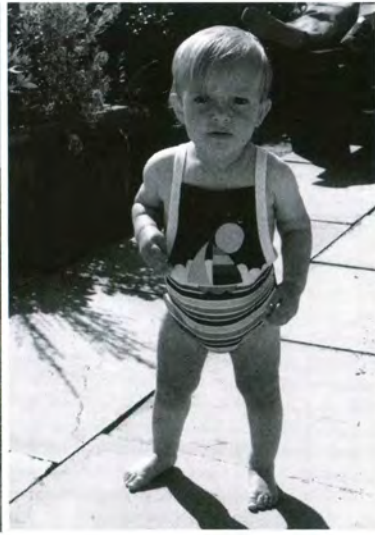

In June, the Junior Awards ceremony was performed, honouring these bright youngsters for their outstanding achievements and hard work over the past year. Top Left- pupils were congratulated on their attendance with gold, silver and bronze awards being issued. Top Right- these pupils received certificates for their environmental contribution by the science department.

Junior pupils have also been encouraged to "aim higher" with the introduction of Cosmic, Star and Supernova awards for exceptional effort, attitude and Achievement as seen centre and bottom left. Also bottom left and bottom right were the recipients of certificates of merit in a wide variety of subjects.

FOR YOUR

The Annual Senior contest was as entertaining as ever. It gave many talented KA students a chance to battle for the the title of "Chatterbox of the Year". The audience were in awe as topics varied from an unusual perception of God to a comic description of a Dad dabbling in DIY. The usual lineup of judges including Mrs Burton, after much debate and comparing of notes, awarded Lauren Anderson and Alan Stirling joint 3rd place, Laura Carbery 2nd place and Kirsty Anderson winner. In the Junior competition the runners up were Graham Stirling, Allan Gray and George Marklow and this year's winner was Gillian Deans.

EARS ONLY!

The Third year public speaking contest was a little different from previous years as this session our S3 pupils were encouraged to approach issues such as drugs, violence and personal safety. The competition was sponsored by local policeman Inspector Gowans, and after a very interesting round of talks the judges decided on Blair Maxwell and Evelyn Connell as the winners.

In September 2000 a group of Third Years journeyed to the Royal Institution in London. Accompanied by Mrs Rafferty the group presented their work on pH indicators from plants in a national competition. Against many of Britain's other leading schools, Kilsyth came out top, beating Lenzie and Hutchesons' on the way!

Miss Irvine's mine I tell you, mine!

The show would never have been such a success without the hard-working and cheerful directors, Mrs Cumming and Miss Irvine, the talented and patient musical director Miss Scott, and of course Mr Lawrie who assisted in the production. The show also owes much of its success to those who worked behind the scenes helping to keep things running smoothly - the art, sound, lighting and make-up teams and, above all, the band.

YOU ONLY

Yet again Mr Dougan braved the slopes of Aviemore with 4 fellow teachers and 36 excited pupils. Just one day on the slopes was interrupted by bad weather and a broken finger (typical Scottish weather and luck). However, the evenings were enjoyed by playing table tennis and bizarre Dougan games such as "Shaky Wickets". The next day, on a different slope, Emma Mead literally knocked men off their feet with her skiing skills. When it was time to leave, the tired but tuneful party travelled home, looking forward to another go next year.

SKI TWICE

After the dawn of the new millennium, K.A.'s annual ski trip to Italy departed with a bus full of still recovering pupils. On arrival, pupils were overwhelmed by the snow, astounded by the weather and confused by the cardboard sandwiches. The week was full of incidents from cross-dressers to broken wrists, but most spectacular of all was Katy's broken leg, which was used to win the heart of Ricardo. All in all it was a superb trip which left everyone with some amazing memories.

CRAZY DAY

Follow the robot in front!

Miss Irvine tries her hand at cosmetic surgery

A cert for the first XI

Lord of the rings

Santa's little helpers

Crazy day was as usual a great success with pupils enjoying activities ranging from the famous techy carnival to penalty shootout, putting, netball and line dancing. This was the Academy's main charity event of the year and almost £500 was given to several charities. It's the ideal combination - supporting good causes while having fun!

HIGHLIGHTS

In the afternoon pupils witnessed a 'Top of the Pops' spectacular with teachers and pupils all joining in and an audience of almost 500. The best (and some of the worst!) acts from the original show were livened up by the 'talented' members of staff. Most popular act? Miss Dick - and backing group!

Several Academy pupils enjoyed success at national level over the course of the session. Sally Pearce and Michelle McMahon continue to be involved in national squads in swimming and athletics respectively. Gemma and Ashley Cassels had an excellent result at the Clyde Cruising Club's meeting at Bardowie Loch gaining 4th place overall and winning the Ken Sykes Trophy for the top ladies team. Both girls sail for Scotland. In February, Caroline Haggart of Second Year won a bronze medal in the triples at the Scottish Gymnastic Championships and has a bright future in the sport.

One day in November, KA became host to one of the most popular shows on British TV. The assembly hall was transformed for an exclusive showing of Top of the Pops. After lots of rehearsals and a full In-service day, the show was finally ready for its capacity crowd. On the night, the stars were out in full force, with acts ranging from the 'talented' NSync, to the oldest swingers in town, the Beatles.

TOP OF THE POPS

Mr McKay was heard to ask for the exterminator during this 'tuneful' performance. The dancers were also great and livened up many of the acts.

Leanne Rhymes may have been No.1 on the night, but every act put on a brilliant show. The audience enjoyed every minute and all helped to raise funds to subsidise our yearbook.

Christmas only

Mr Drysdale in full swing conducting the band

Nicola singing her rendition of Silent Night

Once again, Kilsyth Academy held a terrific Christmas concert packed with a wide range of first class acts. The wind essemble kicked off the programme with Mission Impossible and during the evening took us off to far away places with their shining rendition of Aladdin. There was a wide variety of group and solo acts all of which were fantastic.

As usual, the concert would never have been such a success without the hard work and commitment of the music staff : Mr Drysdale, Miss King, Mr Hankin, Mrs Smith and Mr Graham and of course the dedication of all the pupils involved.

THE WORLD IS NOT ENOUGH

So thats what the teachers got up to

Last year saw Kilsyth Academy take on the world as two trips set off to conquer Europe! In April 2000 Dave Simpson took his usual suspects and a large group of pupils to France where they all had a fantastic time! May saw another expedition, this time to Strasbourg with Janet Kerr where all had a fabulous time in the sunshine! Well - the sun always shines on the righteous!

THE LESSONS ARE

In June, Miss King led the school's trip to London. The days were spent visiting the Drury Lane Theatre, Park Circus, Madame Tussaud's, the Millennium Dome and seeing performances of Blood Brothers and Whistle Down The Wind.

NOT ENOUGH

In June, The Coachman Hotel became host to Kilsyth Academy's annual Senior Ceilidh. After a delicious meal the ceilidh eventually kicked off with music provided by Craigenroan. Both pupils and staff were exhausted after all their dancing, but everyone agreed that the night had been a great success.

THE MAN WITH THE

GOLDEN TONGUE

Kilsyth Academy celebrated Burns Day in traditional style with the full spread of haggis, neeps, tatties and toasts. The difficult job of tracking down a rare West of Scotland Haggis large enough to feed over 60 pupils and teachers succeeded. Mr Dougan hosted the evening and managed to insult half the audience and confuse the other half. Scottish ballads from Mrs Woods on her fiddle set the Scottish mood after which the Haggis was piped in by John Clelland. Lorna McFarlane gave the audience an animated toast to the Haggis and Nicola Breen said the Selkirk Grace. After a delicious dinner we were entertained by staff and pupils. Nicola Breen, Catherine Cunningham and Saralyn Curle all sang accompanied by Tony Graham on the piano. Mr Denovan captivated the audience with his immortal memory; John Clelland gave a rather controversial toast tae the Lassies. The targets of his barbed comments covered almost everyone in Kilsyth Academy and Claire McDaid made an amusing riposte with her reply fae the Lassies, highlighting some of the 'finer' points of men. The Curragh had us all dancing on the tables and Mr McKay ended with an amusing vote of thanks - a great evening was had by everyone and it ended all too soon.

Wrong instrument John!

Have you met these guys? They're crazy!

There was this one time at band camp...

On Friday 3rd of November, Kilsyth Academy's musical talent descended on Kilbowie Outdoor Centre, Oban to endure a weekend filled with non-stop practice. Miss King, Mrs Smith and Mr Hankin along with the wind band braved the cold and early mornings in order to perfect their playing for the Christmas concert.

After a hard day's practice, the pupils enjoyed a riveting game of "Who wants to be a chocolate millionaire", then it was off to bed for everyone – well almost everyone!! (Certain people had the privilege of watching a very entertaining video, Cruel Intentions).

The weekend of practising certainly paid off as everyone's playing improved and the Christmas concert was a great success.

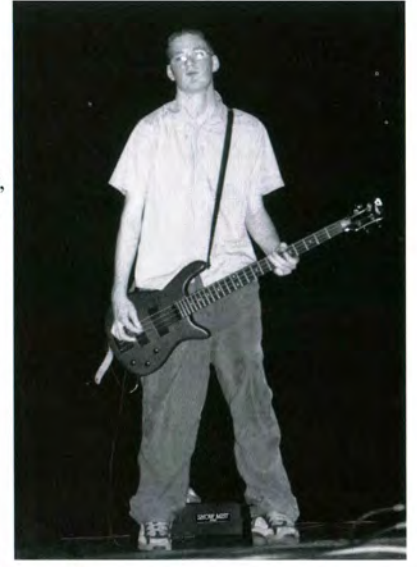

FOREVER

As the lights dimmed down on the stage at this year's North Lanarkshire Battle of the Bands, out crept Kilsyth Academy's own "Steve Greave Experience". After playing their own song "8 Balls" and a cover of Led Zeppelin's "Black Dog" the crowd were blown away.

With James Graham on lead vocals, Gordon Clarke on lead guitar, Andrew MacFarlane on rhythm guitar, Chris McDonald on Bass and Johnny Ross on drums they managed to beat all the other contestants and win the school £500. Their stunning performance also won them the added bonus of playing a live acoustic set on Clan FM!!

Young Musician of the Year

Once again, Kilsyth Academy hosted its annual Young Musician of the Year competition with this year's competition being of an extremely high standard. There were two categories, the senior section (4th – 6th years) and the junior section (1st – 3rd years).

Fiona Duncan was the winner of the senior section, playing Sicillienne by Faure on flute and Janice Smelt was the winner of the junior section playing Allegretto by Gurlitt on piano.

Outward Bound

I've been carrying this for hours and look what's happened.

The Outward Bound trip to Loch Eil near Fort William is an opportunity for young people to increase their confidence and improve their self-esteem. The Outward Bound centre is run by Outward Bound Scotland and Kilsyth Academy was represented by two groups of twelve 4th year pupils. One group visited in November with Miss Reilly and the other group in January with Mr Tolmie. Activities varied from hillwalking, abseiling, and raft building to dynamics such as Jacob's Ladder and Parachute Leaps. Both groups enjoyed brilliant weather and they all had a great time.

Over the next seven pages you will be faced with Kilsyth Academy's class of 2001. After 6 years of assemblies, school dinners and rumours about Mr. MacRae's infamous General Studies class, Kilsyth Academy can boast a collection of fine, upstanding and morally sound individuals . . . none of whom are pictured in the following pages - but surely they exist somewhere!

Paul Alford, KA's very own walking, talking, breathing encyclopedia, is perhaps most famous for his escapade at "Our Dynamic Earth" in Edinburgh. At a geology trip, Paul decided to jump down three enormous steps and consequently sprained his ankle! Some may say that it was just a ploy to get the rest of the week off school! Graham is another of KA's brainiacs but his dodgy taste in music renders him a little less cool than first assumed. He is more likely to be found singing along to ACDC with Mrs. Gemmell in the staff room than raving at one of the Academy's very cool discos. He also bears an uncanny resemblance to Sesame Street's Elmo, minus the red fur, of course. Karen is perhaps the most mysterious girl in the year and it is amazing that someone so tall can remain so inconspicuous! Her friends have told me that Karen is more emotional than Gwyneth Paltrow on Oscar night! This chick is a mad looney and Karen - watch where you put your feet!

Kenneth, who appears so innocent, is renowned for his love of nude pictures - but merely his life drawings for art!. His quiet demeanour does disguise a multitude of sins: from his strange taste in music to his plans for the last day of school, Kenneth is certainly not what he seems. Sneaky Sam who prefers to stay silent unless he's going to say something profound like . . . tufty, earned this nickname for being able to sneak out of class early without the notice of the teacher. KA's sporting hero Marc, who has also dabbled in a bit of acting, found himself to be a bit of a stud during last year's production of Oklahoma as he secured himself a bird both on and off stage. Rock on Captain America! Richard Bell's immense popularity with the 1st year girls provides many opportunities for teasing. His good looks and sexy accent make him a favourite among the ladies and even Miss Dick can't control herself in his presence. Maxine is one of the most mysterious girls in the year who manages to dodge going to the classes she doesn't like without facing the wrath of I. McKay. Perhaps it's something to do with her preferred choice of exit . . . the window?!? Vice Captain/Editor Nicola is often seen strutting her stuff on the dance floor while still maintaining her straight A record and finding time for boyfriend Johnny. Where does she get her energy? Mr. Cant has also found himself to be a bit of a pin up this year, but his driving skills leave a little to be desired, not to mention his choice of parking spaces. But his boy band looks meant his performance in Top of the Pops won the hearts of millions of 1st year girls. Brainiac Laura thrilled us all with her presentation for general studies using her knowledge of science to somehow explain 18th century witchcraft legends. Only Laura could think of that connection!

Gemma, who appears so quiet and shy, shocked us all at Halloween in her punk rock outfit, gothic make-up and biker boots. She's been a source of entertainment all year with witty comments and sarcastic humour, man-orientated! Elaine is another of our man-daft 6th year girls. Her love of men and all things from Stirling provide hours of entertainment and her ability to send the fastest text message in the west is awe inspiring. Her partner in crime, Catherine, is also known for her popularity with the lads and no boy is safe with them on the prowl. Gordon, though, seems to have tamed this man-daft beast but he may be facing competition in the form of Catherine's 1st year fan club. John, one of our editors, managed to find romance amongst photographs and editorial meetings with fellow editor Anna. His toast to the lassies at the Burns Super left him in deep water, but his bagpipe playing was a big hit! Singing sensation and sassy saxophonist Saralyn may have you all fooled by her blonde haired, blue eyed good looks, but all those involved in TOTP know the real Saralyn. Talk about stressed out! Colzium captain Craig has been the 'driving force' behind many house events. He performed in TOTP as Beatles' member Paul McCartney. Nice mop top, Craig! He also fancies himself as KA's own Damon Hill as he scoots about in his wee Polo. Emma is another of this year's drivers, and is also a Beatle loving, art daft hippy with a great passion for all things rock and roll. She and Craig could have been a match made in heaven if boyfriend John hadn't got there first. Captain Dick can boast one of last year's heart throbs as a boyfriend and the aptly named Stud has a busy bee of a girlfriend as Karen is responsible for this year's senior social function, not to mention prefect duties, work, parents evenings, Brownies . . . oh its tough at the top!

Queen of paired reading Janet has an extraordinarily close relationship with her sister and is forever popping in and out of her classes. We were all shocked when apparently shy Janet got up on stage and belted out TLC song No Scrubs. She is known as Linford Christie for her ability to be half way down the corridor before the bell has gone! Flute playing Fiona is our all singing all dancing wonder and her multiple talents delight many, including an abundance of male admirers. Fiona never seems to be without a date! She performed in London's Millennium Dome last year and delighted audiences with her talents alongside our other Dancing Queens Nicola and Deborah. Deborah is the 6th year's busiest body. Between link perfecting, prefect duties, dancing, working out and generally having the time of her life, there isn't much Deborah doesn't do! Anna is another busy girl. You would think being editor of the yearbook, vice captain and dux would be enough but no! Anna has found a man to keep herself busy. Our resident brainiac's romance with John makes life much more colourful and the jokes about them are endless! James is another of the quieter members of 6th year with little enticing him out of his shell other than the odd game of pumpkin volleyball at the carrels. He did though sing alongside cronies Marc, Craig and David as Beatles star John Lennon in TOTP and he does look scarily like the man himself. Lesley Good, who is like her surname most of the time, is known best for her wild nights in Kirky. You know what they say, it's the quiet ones you've got to watch! Clare's angelic looks hide a darker side and she can apparently be quite aggressive! But we all know that Clare is just a blonde bimbo at heart, or so I've been told! Johnny fancies himself as a bit of a stud and he loves the attention he gets from the 1st year girls. His boy band looks (skinny and too much gel) make him one of the most desired males in the year.

Rhona Hawthorn

Kirsten Irvine

Kilsyth Academy's very own Goldielocks, Rhona Hawthorn, is more likely to be found riding horses than eating with disgruntled bears. Her massive white smile and blonde hair make her look very like one of the world's biggest pop stars ever, can you guess who . . . Britney Spears, of course! Suzanne, our resident hair dresser, is more than just a pretty face and this budding astrophysicist may well be the one to save the planet from Armageddon! Though Ben Affleck is a much more handsome option! Kirsten is our own in house comedian and her sharp sense of humour would rival any professional. She has even been likened to Liza Tarbuck, though this was not seen as a complement by Kirsten. She captivated the audience at Top of the Pops as Mary from Mary Mary. Another of the 6th years funny girls is Gap loving Katy, whose love of foreign ski instructors with dodgy woolly jumpers was fully realised when she broke her leg. This actress took the old 'break a leg' saying a little too literally. Iain is one of the quieter members of the 6th year . . . until the weekend and his parties rival all others. This Hayley loving house captain is well known in 6th year for having that 'why am I out of bed?' look plastered on his face until at least lunchtime. Ross is the shy boy of the posse and his beamers even rival Fiona Raybould. He is another of the few drivers in the year but is more likely to be driving his mother up the wall than scooting about in a car. David, or Heed as he is affectionately known, is the maddest of all the 6th year- hardly surprising as he comes from Queenzieburn. He played Beatle Ringo Star in TOTP and eventually persuaded us to let him take a drumkit on stage. May I point out he didn't really play them! Louise has always got the coolest bags and shoes. Her passion for Westlife is quite amusing but not as much as her sense of humour which could give Roy Chubby Brown a run for his money.

Claire, a devoted fan of scarves, accessories and of course men, is one of the Captains of Vice and throughout her years at KA she has certainly lived up to this name. She amused us all with her insight into the social lives of Mr Can and Juan at the Burns Supper. She is a great impressionist of many guises and has even tried to pass herself off as a nun! Celtic fan Lorna is about as mad for the Celts as Mr McKay is about geology. She is attracted to all things green and the only way you'll see her legs is in a Celtic strip as she wouldn't be seen dead in a skirt! Heather is the jammiest of all the 6th years as she only has two classes all week! She's just as mental and funny as she has always been and her scarf and gloves are the coolest things ever! Sarah is not afraid to let you know what's on her mind and once her mind's made up there's no budging her. She is known as a part timer as she rarely makes it to school and never to study classes! David McLuckie, our very own weapons specialist, is known for his mad sense of humour. To the untrained eye this boy may appear quite normal, but the weapons magazine under his arm, his collection of Burger King tomato sauces in his pocket and of course his love of Citrus Polos do in fact make him something quite special. Michelle is sports daft and her love of athletics goes deeper than just the hunky men that take part, though that is a bonus. Though all of this sport does take its toll and Michelle is more often recovering from injury than taking part. Susan's love of the cafe's empire biscuits is such that you'll see her beat off 1st years at break to get first choice. Frank the Tank is her much loved wee motor and it is responsible for just a few lunches at McDonalds. Elaine, who is referred to dearly as McSkinny, is perhaps best known for her unconscious humour. Elaine just has to open her mouth and we all laugh, but she is of course the last to get the joke.

Emma the blonde bombshell is an artistic graphics chick. This bronzed babe loves the sun, not too mention older men. It must come in handy to have an older brother with loads of hunky mates! Lucky for some. Kirsty knows all about older brothers, though she is happier with her mates than her brothers. Like Elaine, Catherine and Fiona she is a bit of a boy magnet. This fun loving party girl is a force to be reckoned with and if you ever need advice on buying trainers, Kirsty's the girl to see. James not only looks like Jim from American Pie but they share the same name. His flick could contend with Johnny's but James prefers the Tin Tin style to the fringed look. David Rankin is the mean, moody and magnificent type. His strong silent, dark looks make him a bit of a babe and he's also in a band. Pretty good credentials David! But when he does speak he is hilarious and can make even the most crabbit, premenstrual 6th year girls crack a smile! Louise is one of those lucky girls who doesn't go to study rooms and still gets away with it. She and Maxine must be working together. Louise is a favourite at the Cottage Hospital and she is another unconscious comedian whose dippy-ness makes her hilarious just to talk to! Fiona is a bit strange and she once told me she would like a whip. When I asked what for she said 'Just to keep in my room!'. She has the coolest hair in history and her Halloween costume was very appropriate for this little devil. Oh, the stories I could tell! Alan, the boy with the most difficult surname to spell ever, is a boy racing chick daft dude. His sense of humour makes him a Mr. McGhee in the making! Sharkey is one of the lads who's also got looks to compete with any member of Westlife. He is in a constant state of awe when in girlfriend Amanda's presence and makes buying her lunch in the cafe a daily event. He can even pick gifts that she'll like without any help! What a talented boy!

When I asked Lisa's friends about her the first thing they all said was her laugh (which is usually more hilarious than what she is laughing at). Despite this girl's shy exterior, she is in fact wild at heart and I have heard that on nights out keeping her away from the men can be quite a task. Vicki is more unlike her surname than anybody else. However, she does have a passion for horror films, believe it or not! She is also a huge Robbie Williams fan, and although she asked me not to reveal this I can completely see what you mean Vicki. Now on to KA's very own Robbie. It is of course Bob the Builder Greig Smith. He is a party animal who is fond of his drink - Irn Bru! Kirsty is one of the shyest girls in the year but is apparently the mothering and protective type. But this brainy chick certainly knows how to party judging from last years escapade in France! Remember those tiger masks on the ferry? Rangers mad Gordon is as fanatical as Lorna and he even trailed half way across Europe for a day just to watch his team play one measly match! He is though one of the most adorable of the 6th year boys. Lynsey is another girl whose laugh is hilarious but perhaps not as amusing as her sneezes! She will always be to me the girl who in second year managed to walk into an open window and fall on her bum. Sorry Lynsey, you know I couldn't leave that out. John Watson is a tabloid addict and is more often found at the carrels reading his Sun than anywhere else, least of all study classes. Another of the school's brainiacs, John was once voted most likely to become prime minister. Finally, Jennifer. This chick's shoe collection equals Imelda Marcos! You'd never guess she worked in a shoe shop. Our dancing queen knows how to shake her thang and is a faithful attender at school discos. Her sarcasm is overwhelming and you're often left unsure whether she was being serious. Until of course she laughs at the puzzlement on your face! Very funny, I'm sure!

Snap Happy - Elaine, Emma, Kirsty, Saralyn, Fiona, Jenni, Susan

After six endless months of Mr MacRae and editorial meetings we finally started to work on the yearbook. This year we felt that the fast track, disorganised approach was the best way to go. The snap happy photographers, stessed out editorial team and the exhausted graphics team all battled together, as we desperately tried to think up page titles and those endless poses for photographs started to become tiresome. In the end, though, with much hard work by everybody we pulled it off and created this fabulous publication! One more thing - Good luck to next year's team!

Sharp Shooters - Katy, Saralyn, Craig, Jenni, Claire.

We did work, honest! - Emma and Suzanne.

Worked their hands off - Emma, Kirsty, Catherine, Kenny.

Ooh!- Claire and Kenny

Is that the American talking clock? - Gordon and Ross

And Finally. . . Thanks!

The 2000/01 Yearbook team would like to thank everyone involved in the production of the Yearbook. With special thanks to:

Mr MacRae for his greatly needed help and guidance

Mr Knight for his advice and help

Miss Reilly and Mr Conley (and his much appreciated cookies) and Mr Tolmie and all staff who helped at fundraising events

All our Advertisers

The publishers for their patience and tolerance of our difficulty meeting deadlines!

And last, but not least, we would like to thank you, for buying a yearbook!
