Awards Ceremony

It was a night of success for the best of the best, including Alastair "Wiggy" Thurlbeck being awarded school dux. Emotions ran high as parents watched their sons and daughters collect their awards. Everybody was delighted with their achievements and so they should be!

Loch Eil Outward Bound

In September 2012 a group of S6 pupils took on the challenge of attending an adventurous long weekend at Loch Eil.

First up - Jog and dip. A few nervous faces as the first brave souls make the jump!

Haggerty is committed!
...and Hazel's tying her shoe.

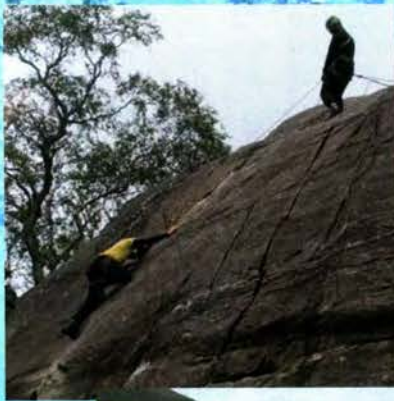

Jamie is walking on water!
Who knew Kilsyth Academy had their very own miracle worker? (He says he would even have kept going if Jennifer hadn't gotten in the way)

Still time for a few more team building exercises. With a record breaking nine people on two crates and about a million midge bites it was a relatively successful night, with just a little time left to relax.

Day 2 - It was time for abseiling and rock climbing. Time to take a blind leap, relying on nothing but their own knots ... This could have gone so wrong.

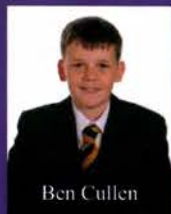

Look busy poses

The end of a successful weekend.

DJ Hagz

On Thursday 27th September, S1 and S6 year pupils took on the challenging task of trudging their way over walls, nets and even through tyres. Although a tough task, everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and through sponsorship from family and friends, a grand total of approximately £900 was raised.

Italy Ski Trip

On a bitter cold January morning a group of pupils, staff and ex-pupils awoke with delight to find they were heading to the famous Val di Fiemme in Italy. It was a great experience and, of course, it lived up to the high expectations.

Science Night

The dedicated Science staff of Kilsyth Academy joined by a few enthusiastic pupils held a science night for the local Brownie and Cub groups. The children were given the opportunity to implode cans, launch rockets and even witness the dissection of a rat! The night was a great success and showed that Kilsyth Academy really does have a formula for fun!

S6 Pyjama day

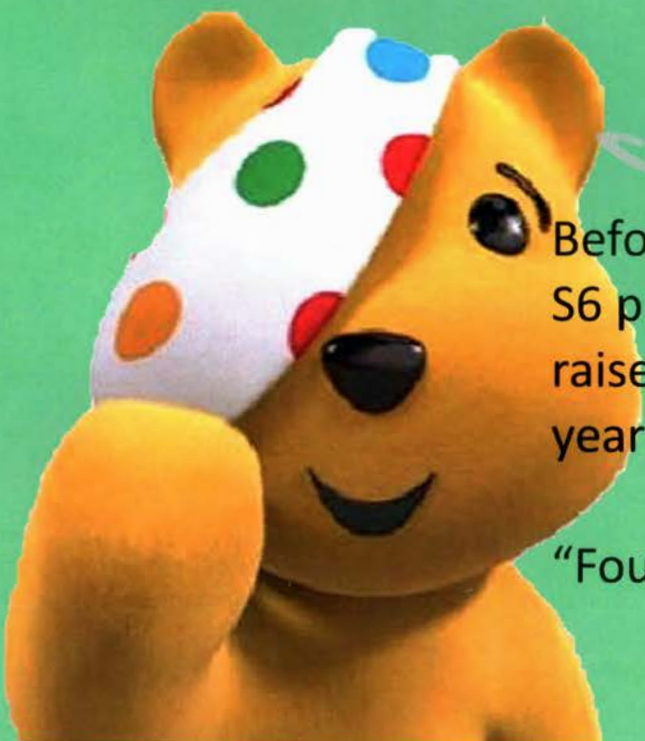

In aid of BBC Children in Need, the S6 pupils held a Pyjama Day in November 2012. Looking cosy!

Candy Canes

Before the Christmas holidays, some S6 pupils sold candy canes for 50p to raise funds to produce this fabulous yearbook!

"Four for you Glen Coco!..."

Charity Box Collection

In December, each class generously donated items to fill Christmas boxes that the House Captains delivered to the Lodging House Mission. These were gratefully received and made it a very merry Christmas for the people receiving the help of the Mission.

Non-Uniform Day

Just before Easter, Kilsyth Academy pupils dressed to impress for a non-uniform day to raise money for the production of the yearbook.
