

Character Study

Task Ideas:

1. After reading your novel or text, think about the character and what you know about them. Create a family shield that represents who they are, where they come from, what their family do and something special about them.

Then create a motto that reflects the family or the character's values and beliefs. Mottos can be either a short phrase or a few descriptive words.

2. Draw a picture of the character and what they look like from your perspective. Write their name in the banner. Colour the background in a colour that represents their mood or general attitude in life.
