

Novel Study: Events Timeline

Use the timeline to put events from your novel into chronological order.

The diagram is a horizontal timeline with an arrow pointing to the right. It consists of a central horizontal line with an arrowhead at the right end. From this line, vertical lines extend upwards and downwards to connect to a grid of 12 empty rectangular boxes. The boxes are arranged in three rows: four boxes above the arrow, four boxes below the arrow, and four boxes at the bottom. This layout allows for the chronological ordering of events from a novel.
