

During Reading- Main Ideas

Imagine you were the main character in your reading book. Can you write a short tweet to another character letting them know what is going on?

A screenshot of the Twitter 'Compose new Tweet' interface. At the top, it says 'Compose new Tweet' in blue text with a close 'x' button on the right. Below this is a large white text input area. At the bottom, there are four elements: a camera icon with the text 'Add photo', a location pin icon with the text 'Location disabled', the number '140' indicating character count, and a red 'Tweet' button with a feather icon.

Can you finish these sentence starters to make new questions for your reading partner?

1. Why do you think...
2. Can you list the parts where...
3. What is the relationship between...
