Teacher Answers

Part A: Words

- A1 With a Joe Wicks workout! 'Rainbow art', Your News, page 27
- A2 Dina Asher-Smith won in Qatar. 'Classic sports pic of the week', Sport, page 28
- A3 The bushfire season coming to an end, alongside recent rains bringing new leaves to the eucalyptus trees (the koalas' food), mean that rescued koalas are being released back into the wild after the terrible fires. The koalas will be able to go back to their old habitats. Radio trackers on the creatures will also help scientists to check up on the marsupials' progress. 'Wow!', Big News, page 7
- A4 Worries about catching COVID-19 – but doctors want children to come to hospital if they need emergency care. 'Don't be afraid of hospitals', Coronavirus News, page 3
- A5 She's a tiger at the Bronx Zoo in New York who has tested positive for COVID-19, the disease caused by the new coronavirus. 'Tiger catches COVID-19', Animal News, page 11
- A6 Ferocity. She is a character in an ongoing story being written in weekly installments by First News readers. 'Write a story with Cressida Cowell', Books, page 25
- A7 A reserve for birds, especially for migratory birds. 'Golf course for birds', Lincolnshire, Home News, page 6
- A8 During the coronavirus lockdown, teacher Zane Powles is delivering lunches to disadvantaged pupils who normally get free school meals at his school. 'Local heroes', page 1
- A9 It's a map of Britain showing routes for walking between towns, which will be put together by Ordnance Survey. 'Walking map', UK, Home News, page 6
- A10 Hug a tree instead, because it can relax you. 'Hug a tree!', Coronavirus News, page 3

Part B: Pictures

- B1 For the first time, the sun's outer layer has been photographed. The image was taken by NASA's High-Resolution Coronal Imager telescope (Hi-C for short). Lancashire, UK, News in Pictures, page 5
- B2 This spiral galaxy, known as NGC 4651, contains what the American space agency NASA calls "a violent secret", which is that it has consumed another smaller galaxy! 'The hungry galaxy', Science News, page 9
- B3 A Dalek was seen patrolling the streets of Whitby warning: "All humans must self-isolate by order of the Daleks!" 'Self-isolate!', Crazy but True, page 26
- B4 Staff at the North West Ambulance Service and Royal Blackburn Teaching Hospital have raised the money to send Kelvin Baker and his mum to Disneyland for Kelvin's fifth birthday present. This will be his first birthday since his dad died in a car crash last year. 'Boy's big thank you', Lancashire, Home News, page 6
- B5 CBBC star Maddie Moate and her partner, science writer Greg Foot, have a new science show on YouTube called Let's Go Live to keep you entertained while school is closed. 'Science is cool', Entertainment, page 18
- B6 The title of 'world's steepest street' has been returned to Baldwin Street in Dunedin, New Zealand, after the criteria was changed. The measurement is now taken from the centre of the road, not the sides. 'Steepest street again', New Zealand, World News, page 8
- B7 Aston Villa's Rushian Hepburn-Murphy smashed a window at his house when showing off his ball skills! 'Bad week for... This window!', Big News, page 7
- B8 Max wears his Young Epilepsy T-shirt to promote the charity, which helps children who have seizures, caused by sudden bursts of energy in their brains. 'International Day of Epilepsy', Your News, page 27
