"The Gingerbread Man"

Listen to the Story

Let's get Creative!

Get someone to draw around your body, on the ground or on a long piece of paper. Can you draw your eyes, nose, mouth? Draw around your family members. Compare the sizes. Who is the tallest? Shortest?

Ready, steady, BAKE!

Let's bake our very own gingerbread person.

Here is a simple recipe from BBC Good Food

Helpful Hands

Lots of characters helped the baker and his wife to chase the gingerbread man. Can you be helpful?

Why don't you help your family complete jobs around the house? Here are some ideas.

- Help with the washing (matching socks)
- Put your toys away
- Make your bed
- Set the table
- Dust the furniture

Let's Count

Counting, Matching and Ordering

Here is the link to a familiar online game where you can practise counting, matching and ordering numbers 1-10

Floating or Sinking

Have a look around your house and collect a variety of items. Fill a container of water, or use your bath. What items float and what items sink?

Can you predict the result beforehand?

Make a chart so you can count how many float and how many sink.

What happens?

What do you think would happen if the gingerbread man went into the water?

Use a biscuit or a slice of toast. Dip it into a cup of water. What happens?

Encourage your child to describe what happens to the biscuit or toast.
