Transition to Primary 1

Why are transitions important?

Transition is what we call it when a child moves from one thing to another. There are lots of little transitions during the day, getting dressed, turning the television off, putting jackets on to go outside, all parents know that some transition are easier than others! Other transitions are bigger, for example starting a new nursery or school. All children need help to prepare them for transition.

Transition Tuesdays

We will be posting a related activity sheet, every Tuesday #TransitionTuesday, for you to take part in a shared experience at home. We would love it if you wanted to share your experiences with us through photographs or drawings but please don't think you need to be completing every one and use the following hashtags #TransitionTuesday #HereThereEverywhereBear.

Read or listen to the story with your child. Display a bear in your window.

Take pictures of your bear in different places, for example when out for a walk or at a park.

Talk to your child about places the bear might like to visit.

Host a teddy bear picnic with your child in your garden or in your home. Help your child to make a healthy snack.

Collect a selection of teddy bears and order them from tallest to smallest.

When out on a walk with your bear spend some time looking at all the different birds you see. Maybe you could make a bird feeder?
