

P4/5 Music Lesson

(Week Beginning Monday 1st February 2021)

Scottish Topic: 'Donald Where's Your Troosers?'

January is a special month in Scotland as we celebrate the famous poet Robbie Burns. One of the ways we celebrate is by having Burns Supper. In this Scottish topic lesson you are going to learn about a song written by Andy Stewart called 'Donald Where's Your Troosers?'

Task 1

1. Listen to 'Donald Where's Your Troosers' using the following link:
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4yw0bLHTOb0>
2. Answer the questions on 'Donald Where's Your Troosers' on the worksheet provided.

'Donald Where's Your Troosers' is a song written by Andy Stewart (1960-1989). Andy Stewart wrote the words to the song and Neil Grant wrote the music. The song is meant to be funny and is about the reaction Donald gets when he wears a kilt instead of a pair of trousers.

Try joining in on the chorus:

'Let the wind blow high, let the wind blow low. Through the streets with my kilt I go.

All the lassies say: "Hello, Donald's whaur's yer troosers?"

Donald Where's Your Troosers Worksheet

1. Which Hebridean Island does Donald come from? S - - -

---

2. Donald went to London and had some fun in the U - - - - -

---

3. In the song Andy Stewart imitates a famous Rock n' Roll singer. Who is the singer that Andy Stewart is imitating? E - - - - P - - - - -

---

4. In the Scottish part of the song what instruments are playing?

---

5. What do we call the rhythm being played by the instruments accompanying the song? This is a common rhythm in Scottish music.
V - - - - -

---

6. In the Rock n' Roll part what instrument is added to accompany the song?
E - - - - - G - - - - -

---

7. How many times do you hear 'Donald where's your troosers?' sung in the song?

---