

Scotland Learns

Parents and Carers Newsletter

We are pleased to offer a new weekly newsletter for parents and carers to support learning at home and would be grateful if you could share this message with your community of parents and carers. They can see the first copy of the newsletter here but will need to sign up below to receive this by email on a weekly basis.

Key messages

- Have a look at the first issue of the Scotland Learns: Parents and Carers Newsletter. The first issue contains learning activities for Literacy and Numeracy, support on wellbeing and a focus on the theme of food. You will also find hints and tips, advice for engaging young people with autism in their learning and a creativity challenge.
- To receive this weekly, go to our Sign Up page, complete your details and tick the Scotland Learns- Parents and Carers Newsletter option. Don't forget to click subscribe at the bottom. Doing this will ensure you receive a weekly email directly to your mailbox to let you know when a new newsletter is available.

We are very much focused on supporting practitioners, learners, parents and carers during the unchartered period of learning at home. This newsletter is specifically for parents and carers and provides hints and tips for helping children learn from home, learning activities, as well as puzzles and challenges for children and young people. The activities don't require lots of materials and the tasks are designed to encourage children's creativity and independence

For Scotland's learners, with Scotland's educators