

Salvador Dali was a Spanish Surrealist artist who lived from 1904-1989.

He is very famous for his strange, dreamlike images filled with symbols and twisted forms.

Persistence of memory (below) is possibly his most famous piece. The objects in it may refer to a dream that Dalí himself had experienced, and the clocks may symbolize the passing of time as you experience it in sleep or the persistence of time in the eyes of the dreamer. The orange clock at the bottom left of the painting is covered in ants.
