

Happy Friday everyone! We've made it to the last day of a very different week, where staff, pupils, and parents have all had to, 'unleash our creativity'

This week we have all learned lots' of new things, especially me. We have learned that we need to be patient and work as a team. Things can get a bit frustrating sometimes working from home but if we show respect for one another it makes a happier place to live and learn. All the staff and pupils are learning to be flexible and adaptable and if one thing doesn't work, then we can try something else and it's okay to ask for help. Aiden's mum in P1 kindly posted this in the P1 classroom, which may help other parents share their child's learning with the teacher,

If you click on the classwork tab above, then click on the 'assignment' they're working on, on the right hand side there's a box "Your Work" click Add or create and then upload photos of their work, once uploaded click "hand in". You can directly message Mrs Smith too about their work with "private comments" on the box below it.

We've also learned about the importance of St. Fillan's Primary as a supportive school community – it's been wonderful to see you uploading your profile pictures, sharing, commenting positively and remembering to show Respect to one another

For pupils and parents please try not to worry about getting everything done, if you have not managed to get into the assignments, download or upload documents or complete any of the tasks set please do not worry. You have still been learning valuable skills for the future. It's important to remember this is a time to be with family and support one another. Please help around the house and remember to get your daily exercise and wash your hands regularly for 20 seconds.

Please remember Father Andrew and Sister Mary Frances in your prayers.

Fr. Andrew has also 'unleashed his creativity' and has now got mass available online if you go to the St. Fillan's Parish website,

Please remember our schools shared vision

"We are all learning, growing and succeeding together"

Stay well and we will see you all again on Monday.

Mr. Collins
