Choosing the Right Path

Each young person is unique and the right pathway post is highly individual:

Employment

College – January and August start courses

Apprenticeships

- Modern Apprentice – opportunity to work in a paid job whilst undertaking workplace training in order to gain new and enhanced skills and recognized qualifications
- Graduate Apprenticeships – provides an alternative pathway to degree-level study for individuals who want to go straight into employment. Sectors include ICT and Digital, Cyber Security, Data, Civil Engineering, Engineering, Construction and Business (up to Masters level)

University

PUBLIC

University Places

In recent years, places at university have become more competitive.

There are several reasons for this including funding cuts and an increase in adult applicants and foreign students (who pay higher fees than the Scottish Government do for Scottish students).

PUBLIC

Consequences of more competition

S5 attainment is often not enough. Universities increasingly want to see progress in S6:

- S6 students should be following a curriculum of 4 subjects in addition to attending PE, RE and SE.
- S6 – Volunteering and Leadership
- Pursuing work experience

The key is for students to develop and broaden their skills!

Personal statements are becoming more and more important for many courses, particularly 'person-centred' courses such as Nursing and Teaching, as well as highly competitive courses such as Law and Engineering

PUBLIC

Application-to-offer rate at Glasgow University

% of Scottish applicants to receive an offer for competitive courses

- Medicine – 50%
- Computing – 60%
- Scots Law – 38%
- Business Management – 52%

Finance and funding

You will only be asked further questions in finance and funding if you select UK, ChI, IoM or EU Student Finance Services.

You then need to apply for SAAS, this will be explained later in the Powerpoint.

The Scottish Government will only pay your fees if you apply for SAAS (even if you choose not to also apply for a student loan or bursary).

What will be your main source of funding for your studies? *

Select an option from the drop-down list to tell us how you expect to pay for your tuition fees. Most applicants from the UK, Channel Islands, Isle of Man, and those eligible EU students under the EU Settlement Scheme will be in the category UK, ChI, IoM, or EU student finance.

This guidance has been created based on eligibility advice from the Student Loans Company, and you should give your answer as guided. Universities and colleges are aware that EU applicants will be selecting the UK, ChI, IoM or EU student finance option.

If you require additional guidance, we recommend contacting the UK Council for International Student Affairs.

Help for free school meals

Young people in the UK are usually eligible for free school meals if their parents or carers are on a low income or in receipt of certain benefits. If you're not sure, ask your school – they will be able to confirm this for you. You may also be eligible if you're paid qualifying benefits directly, instead of through your parent or carer. For more information about answering this question read our FAQs.

Q1: Why do you want to study this course or subject?

You'll want to show evidence of passion, curiosity and interest, this might include:

Motivations for studying this course(s):

- Have you been inspired by a key role model or moment in your life?
- Is it a subject you love and want to pursue further?
- What is your drive?
- How has your path led you to this course or subject area?

Knowledge of this subject area and interests:

- Is there a particular subject area you've researched?
- Something you can't wait to learn more about?
- What about a book or subject expert doing great things that's sparked your interest?

Future plans; demonstrate why this course/subject is a good fit:

- Do you already have a particular profession in mind?
- How might you use your studies to launch your career?
- What's important to you and your future, and how might the knowledge gained from this course(s) help you achieve this?

Remember these are just some examples, you don't need to include it all. The key is to research the course(s) to find out what might be most relevant.

Example: Law

I first gained an insight into the nuanced and ever-changing nature of law when studying drug laws in Scotland and was particularly struck by the way in which legislation evolves in response to the challenges faced by society.

Example: Sports Science

Studying Sports Science is the ideal course to prepare me for a career as a strength and conditioning coach for Olympic athletes. Studying Sports Science will provide me with a deep understanding of human physiology and biomechanics, allowing me to apply scientific principles to elite training environments.

Q2: How have your qualifications and studies helped you to prepare for this course or subject?

Focus on what's most recent and relevant to your subject or course(s), examples could include:

How your studies or training relate to chosen course(s) or subject area:

- This could be your current or previous studies.
- This could be from any form of formal education – think school, college, training, or short online courses.

What relevant or transferable skills have you got that make you a great candidate:

- Are there a couple of subjects that helped you develop a core set of relevant skills required for your chosen course(s).
- Maybe a particular module or project helped you understand where your interests and strengths lie.

Any relevant educational achievements

- Universities and colleges will see your grades on your application - don't waste space talking about these.
- Focus on your other accomplishments like a competition, holding a position of responsibility or representing the school/college.

Focus on the skills you have developed through your studies and how this has prepared you for studying your chosen course.

Example: Biomedical Science

I have outstanding scientific knowledge, analytical skills and time management skills, as demonstrated by my success in Higher Biology and Chemistry. I am also adept at applying and transferring the knowledge I have acquired from one area of study to another. For example, studying molecular structures allowed me to better understand gene expression. Furthermore, the excellent scores I achieved for both my Biology and Chemistry assignments highlight my ability to plan, carry out and evaluate an experiment safely and effectively.

Q3: What else have you done to prepare outside of education, and why are these experiences useful?

Examples should be reflective and demonstrate further suitability for your subject or course(s), this could include:

Work experience, employment, or volunteering	Personal life experiences or responsibilities	Hobbies and any extracurricular or outreach activities:	Achievements outside of school or college
• In-person or virtual work experience. • Paid for work or volunteering. • The key thing is reflection on the experiences and the skills gained relevant to your chosen course(s).	• Is there a situation you've personally overcome that has influenced your decision? • Are there personal experiences that have helped you develop essential qualities for the course?	• Think sports, reading, community work, summer schools. • Any activities outside of core studies that help further showcase why you'd make a great student.	• This could be a position of responsibility for local clubs or groups, competitions, or qualifications you've attained outside of the classroom.

Focus on the skills you have developed through these activities. Try to ensure roughly 70% of your personal statement focuses on academics and relevant work experience and around 30% on hobbies and non-related employment.

Example: Generic

As the captain of my basketball team, I have developed a range of skills that extend beyond the court and into my academic development. Being the captain has required me to communicate effectively, motivate others and foster a sense of unity among the team. The role has also strengthened my ability to make strategic decisions and remain resilient in challenging situations, qualities that are vital both in sport and study.

Example: Maths

Working at Next has developed skills directly transferable to studying Maths. In a fast-paced retail environment, I regularly use problem solving and logical thinking to help manage stock, organise displays and respond efficiently to customer needs. Teamwork with colleagues and clear communication with customers have further enhanced my interpersonal skills. These experiences have prepared me to thrive both academically and socially in a university setting.
