Find the latest information on the sites you like to visit, mobiles and new technology. Find out what's good, what's not and what you can do about it. If you look after young people there's an area for you too – with resources you can use in the classroom, at home or just to get with it. Most importantly, there's also a place which anyone can use to report if they feel uncomfortable or worried about someone they are chatting to online. All the information here is brought to you by the team at the Child Exploitation and Online Protection (CEOP) Centre. We hope you like it!

Add to my Launch Pad

Description

The JRSO programme aims to empower children to highlight road safety issues within the wider school community. It encourages road safety peer learning and promotes partnership working between pupils, parents, teachers, other school staff, road safety officers and other professionals. It gives senior pupils the opportunity to become JRSOs for a year. Their task is to organise a road safety noticeboard, deliver safety presentations to classes/assemblies and run school road safety competitions. Specific themes can provide a baseline for young people to develop their own road safety ideas. The resource includes a 'members only' area specifically for JRSOs. Links to experiences and outcomes.

Description

In a galaxy nearby, right about now, a spaceship has collided with some asteroids and is out of control. Crash landing on Earth in a tiny town in Scotland called Auchterkrankie, the clumsy alien robot pilot 'Klang' finds himself stranded without any means to get back to his home, planet Fendaar.

That's where YOU come in!

Help Klang track down and find the parts he needs to fix his ship, surprisingly things found here on Earth are ideal – which is handy.

But beware, Klang is a bit confuddled by roads and cars – his cosmic circuits detect danger! And if that wasn't enough, his rather spectacular landing has attracted the attention of evil secret agents who want to track down Klang too – but it's highly unlikely they'll help him get anywhere safely...

An app brought to you by Road Safety Scotland that makes learning about road safety fun and engaging.
