

Winter in Scotland Leaflet

Research activities that can be enjoyed in your area during winter.

You might live near one of Scotland's ski resorts or there might be a winter festival held in your area or some other exciting winter activities.

Create a leaflet to inform people about the winter activities they can enjoy in your area. Think about the language you use: try to persuade people to come to the events or try the activities.

Decide who your poster to going to be aimed at depending on the activities you are advertising. Use the space on the next page to write some notes and important points that you will include in your design.
