

Design a Scottish Dish of the Day

Scotland is known for a lot of things - bagpipes, kilts, haggis and everyone's favourite monster, Nessie! It's also famous for producing some very tasty food. Scotch Beef and Scotch Lamb are so delicious that they have won awards. Scotland also has a very important place in the fishing industry, and the country is known for its high quality salmon and seafood. There are lots of other types of food produced in Scotland, including poultry, dairy, oats, wheat, fruits, vegetables... the list is endless!

Use the space below to design a Scottish dish of the day, made from ingredients that can be sourced in Scotland.
