Match the descriptions to the correct labels to identify some of the short-term effects that alcohol can have on the body.

The diagram features a central illustration of a man in an orange shirt and blue jeans. Six arrows point from different parts of his body to surrounding label boxes. Each label box is positioned above a larger, empty rectangular box for notes.

- Head: An arrow points to the man's forehead.
- Vision: An arrow points to the man's eyes.
- Communication: An arrow points to the man's mouth.
- Reactions: An arrow points to the man's right hand.
- Stomach: An arrow points to the man's midsection.
- Co-ordination: An arrow points to the man's right leg.
