More integrations coming soon

We're always working on adding more integrations to the app, so parents can use it as a convenient portal to jump into other school systems, without installing more apps.

How it works for schools

For parents to be able to use the app, your school will need to enable it from either Groupcall or Teachers2Parents. Once enabled, you will be able to send messages via push notifications.

When sending texts, the system automatically detects whether each recipient is using the app, and if so, it only sends a notification. This is a great benefit for schools, as it keeps SMS costs down!

To help encourage parents to use the app, a percentage on your messaging dashboard shows how many parents have it installed. You can view the full report to see who hasn't got it yet, and easily send them a quick reminder.

How it works for parents

Once enabled and invited, parents can download the Eduspot app to their Apple or Android mobile device. If their details match what you have stored in your MIS for that contact, they'll be able to securely sign in.

In the app, parents can see a timeline of incoming messages across all supported systems. If your school uses other systems that integrate with the Eduspot app, parents can also sign into those with a single tap, reducing the need to remember more login details or install even more apps!
