

The Little Unicorn Kitty

Once upon a time there was a unicorn well it was a half unicorn half cat. Her name was Unikitty and she had a sister was called Buttercup they were same type of animal. Their house was in Yell. They went on an adventure to Paris and they met some people one of there names was beauty but they did not know that so they just talked for a little while and then back to Yell but then they knew her name. They like eating rainbowbite that is a type of cereal for the them to eat for breakfast and for lunch they had rainbow carrots and rainbow totties Beauty had lunch with them. Then they went out in the garden to play. They had a great time they were exhausted from all that playing.

The next day they went swimming they played with the woggles and pretended to be elephants with the woggles. Beauty was a bit late she swam to Buttercup and Unikitty. Buttercup gave Beauty her woggle. They put water in the woggles then blew it out. It was quite funny. They did some swimming. They also pretended to be mermaids. Some other people were there too. They were in the Leisure Centre pool. They did a lot of breast stroke in fact they loved doing breast stroke.
