

Science:

I can use and select appropriate materials.
I understand the similarities and differences between peoples of the world.

RME:

I am aware of the importance of festivals, celebrations and customs in people from around the world.
I can respect other people's beliefs and values.

Numeracy and Mathematics:

I can develop my understanding of size through working and talking with others in relation to the world.
I can use numbers to represent quantities and sequences.
I can share out objects fairly.
I am aware of different money in different countries and can recognise some coins.
I can recognise shapes in relation to buildings around the world.
I can use charts to get information.

Technologies:

I can use the computer and other tools to solve problems and make things.
I say where foods originate from as I help in cooking and tasting.
I can play with the electronic globe to extend my knowledge.

Social Studies:

I can explore, make and taste foods relating to different countries.
I can demonstrate through models and drawing my knowledge of the world.
I can use different types of evidence to find out about the world.
I can work with others and alone in different situations.

The WorldFrench

I can learn to say things in different languages.
Chinese- weekly language and culture taster session with Ying.

Expressive Arts:

I can do role play area based on different cultures eg chop sticks/ Chinese kitchen.
I can listen to, dance and sing music from different countries.
I can be part of a Chinese dragon which I helped make.
I can experience instruments from different countries.
I can link music to how it makes me feel.
I can perform dances songs and drumming I have experienced.
I can express my ideas through various art and craft mediums.
I can respond to the styles of artists from different countries.

Health and Wellbeing:

I can take part in cooperative learning activities and group tasks and games to help me relate to, support and work with a variety of others.
I can make choices to develop my learning and interests by exploring a chosen country.
I am learning to understand and follow rules and share resources.

Literacy and English:

I can talk and listen to others
I can write ,sequence and tell stories from different countries
I can write and read words to label work and complete worksheets
I can use and read books to extend my knowledge
I can listen to stories from other lands
I can make choices about what I like
I can distinguish between fact and fiction
I can explore and try different types of writing and writing materials.

Visiting teachers

Art: Fringe Festival poster. Emotional faces, looking at colour and shape. Chinese blossoms and a real Chinese dragon for pupils to wear.

Music African drumming with Joy Duncan. Singing and listening to instruments of the world. Singing games and instrumental work in creative groups.

P.E Balance and control in gymnastics. Gross and fine motor skills working with bat and ball.