My Old Home

L1. - to use time connectives to recount an event.

I saw a small window and it was open so I crawled inside.
The girl got out of her bed and shouted at me.
What had I done wrong, was I bad, I didn't mean to be!
She told me to leave and that made very sad.
Then she said before I go what happened, I felt bad.
I began to tell the reason why I was there.
I suddenly felt a tear roll down my orange hair.

There was a human in my forest and I was really scared.
He was destroying my home and hadn't even cared.
He tore my mum away from me, where did she go?
I felt like crying, I felt dying, I felt like screaming NO!
The trees, the whole forest was all just twisting down.
Everything was getting, I thought that would down.
Flames had burst out all over every single tree.
I felt as if I was chained down and needed to break free.

I ran and ran until I finally escaped.
Even though I burnt my fur and my foot was a little scraped.
I bounded to a small village where I saw a little house.
It was even quieter than the squeak of a tiny mouse.

When she listened to my story the girl said I could stay.
She told me she would save my forest! I shouted loud Hurray!
I knew that I had a friend and that she liked me.
That is what happened and the end of the story

Save the orangutans!
