

Child's Copy

It was a pleasant spring day. Rows of daffodils were ruffling in the faint breeze. Today my family and I were heading to a wildlife park in the country. The journey was long because there was so much traffic on the roads.

When we arrived at the wildlife park, we made our way to the office to pay. A family ticket was on special offer and the staff also gave us a free raffle ticket. After that we strolled round to the elephant house. What magnificent animals! I used my mobile telephone to take a photograph of them.

Next we came to the bird sanctuary. Grouse and pheasants were darting around nibbling at bits of food. They are crafty birds! Visitors are discouraged from offering food to any of the animals in case it is not suitable. It was a great day but little did I know there was more to come.

As we wandered into the café I heard my name being announced as the winner of the raffle. Excitement flooded through me. I had won the face painting prize and a sketch of my profile. Brilliant! This was a perfect end to a perfect day.