Maths Obstacle Course

Make an obstacle course in the garden or in the house. Assign a function to complete at each obstacle e.g. add 7

At the beginning of the course, give a starting number e.g. 25. Shout 'go'. As each person makes their way through the obstacle, they have to call out the new number at each obstacle. e.g. 32, 39, etc.

Rock, Paper... multiply!

Like 'Rock, Paper, Scissors' you hide your hand behind your back, call together '1,2,3 – show' and reveal both your hands holding 0-10 fingers.

Multiply the number of fingers on your hand to your partner's and call the answer. The player to call the correct answer first wins a point.
