

If your child is well but unable to attend school because they or someone in your household are isolating and awaiting results from a Covid test (usually around 1-3 days) then please use the following to support their learning at home:

- Completion of the week's homework tasks set by your child's class teacher (these can be accessed via their Seesaw or Google Classroom account)
- Interdisciplinary activities for example cooking, sewing, craft, outdoor activities etc.

Home Learning support for children

If your child is well but unable to attend school because they are having to self-isolate for a longer period of time then please use the following to support their learning at home:

- Completion of the week's homework tasks set by your child's class teacher (these can be accessed via their Seesaw or Google Classroom account)
- Completion of Home Learning activities which can be accessed via your child's Google Classroom or Seesaw account.
- Completion of activities that can be accessed online (please see next page)
- Interdisciplinary activities for example cooking, sewing, craft, outdoor activities etc.

Online learning resources:

E-sgoil - Education Scotland's offer of live teaching.

This is an offer of live teaching sessions that your child can access for most of the school day. The children will be working online with other children from across Scotland. Your child will be expected to engage fully in the lessons.

Primary 2-4:

Please note: this offer of learning needs to be registered for each child by the school in the first instance. If your child is isolating and you are interested in this then please contact the school. An offer of learning for Primary 1 is currently being developed.

Please note: if your child's class is asked to self - isolate as one group and the teacher is well, your child's class teacher will be organising learning for the isolation period through Google Classroom and Seesaw.

If you cannot log into your child's Seesaw or Google Classroom account please contact Miss Burns who will be able to assist: burnsj50s@glow.sch.uk
