You said ...	We already ...	We will ..
Sharing the learning event needed to be more structured.		Share the expectations and structure with families in advance. Look at opportunities for clans to share learning they are proud of.
At sharing the learning events we didn't get to speak to the teacher about my child's progress.	These are sharing the learning opportunities, so there unfortunately there is not time to speak to the champion individually. This is shared in the communication surrounding the event.
I would prefer less sharing the learning events and more events like champions conversations.	It is West Lothian policy and within teachers working time agreement to have 2 x 10 min parent sessions each academic year.	Streamline the opportunities we have to look at profiles and sharing the learning events.

	We also run 2 sessions where parents can come to see their child's jotters. Parents receive an end of year pupil and parent report. There are sharing the learning events across the year, and access to Seesaw and Teams.
Perhaps designated times for children with sensory issues as then the experience may be less overwhelming.	We did trial this at the recent Calderwood Chats.
Plenty of notice in advance of events.	We share a termly parent calendar.	Next session we will share a yearly calendar of events and aim to use parent calendar on the Parent Portal. We will continue to look at the calendar and try to spread out events across the year.
Time with teacher to hear about what the children will be learning and see some of the resources they will be using.	We share a learning letter each term of intended learning.
Record events like shows and Connects.	Not all children have photographic permission which means we are unable to record some events. We tweet photos of those who have permission.
Roles/ awards are distributed fairly.	For competitions, like the poetry one, there are set success criteria which is shared with the children and families.	We will continue to look at ways to fairly distribute parts, etc in connects and
Feedback about individual events		We will put this into consideration when planning future events.
