2. Following feedback from last session, the aim of this event was to let you see the school environment as a whole, visit your child's clan and meet their champion.

Was this aim achieved?

What did you find useful about the session?

Lovely to be shown around by my son now he is familiar with the building, it helps to get a sense of how his day is spent.

It was a nice opportunity to see the school extension and new classroom as well as meet the teacher properly.

Meeting the teacher properly
seeing the learning environment

Seeing my child's learning space

Good to meet the new teachers and see the new classroom - thank you!

It was great that it was in the evening so we could attend after work and that our child was able to give us a tour of the school and the new extension as well as showing us their new classroom and for us to be able to meet their new teacher.

My daughter being able to share what is important to her and she enjoyed being able to explore parts of the new extension that she hadn't seen before.

I was able to see some of the activities that my children had been working on. Also just to say hello to teachers and know my children have settled in well to school routine.

A chance to see the environment my child learns in

It was nice to see the classroom. Gave me an insight into the classroom routines and lovely to now be able to picture my child there!
They are very excited about being out of a cabin and upstairs, so was good to be able to see it.

It was lovely to see my child's classroom and the activities on offer. It was also a great opportunity to meet the teacher as a parent who never drops off or collects. It was lovely seeing how confident my child was when showing me around and talking about all the routines.

Being able to see the environment our kids are being taught in and to hear how well they've settled into P1.

Opportunity to meet her teacher, see the learning environment and my child was really excited to talk through everything she does at school

Experiencing the environment, meeting clan champion and seeing how comfortable and confident my child felt showing us round.

To see the activities the kids are engaged with Informal chat with teachers and other parents was great. And a chance for the children to show me their learning space, which they love.

The two timeslot options, which were good for working parents to be able to attend

It was nice to catch up with clan champion and have a chat about daily activities performed by the clan. My child was so excited to show me around the school.

To see the classroom and learning environments

To meet the champion and have a brief chat about settling into the new clan

To see around the classroom

Seeing new classroom, and school layout now extension open

How could we improve this session?

You said ...	We already ...	We will ..
Maybe an earlier session, closer to pick up time. Maybe hold the first session earlier as it was over dinner time for most.	The later sessions were based on feedback from last session, to make the session more accessible for different family routines.
Maybe a market place type thing in the hall to share other areas of school life. Talk about activities taking place outside the classroom.		We love this idea! The next evening session will focus us sharing our Calderwood Curriculum.
Perhaps a couple of games/tasks out	Clans had resources out to share some of the resources they use on a daily basis.
Maybe half way through the session, the teacher could do a quick intro to the curriculum, what the kids have been learning/planning to learn. Even 5/10 minutes. It would be good to hear more about that and meet other parents from the clan	It is difficult to fit this all into one session, there are opportunities for this at the clan sharing the learning event and at the clan connects. You can also find this information on our termly learning letters. You can find term 1 learning letters here.
To have some more information on what to expect throughout the session - it was a bit informal	We shared this information about the event, describing it as in informal event.

Compliments

- I really liked how it was set up. Particular shout out to the older girls on the door who said hi and bye to my son by name, it's lovely that the older kids seem to look out for the younger ones and get to know them so quickly. I've noticed that on the walk down to school too (obviously not connected to the event but worth pointing out).
- No suggestions the session was very good and useful.
