

Learning about the world around me.

Hindus try to live good lives. They try to fill their lives with good karma.

To do this they:

dowork for their families, community and schools.

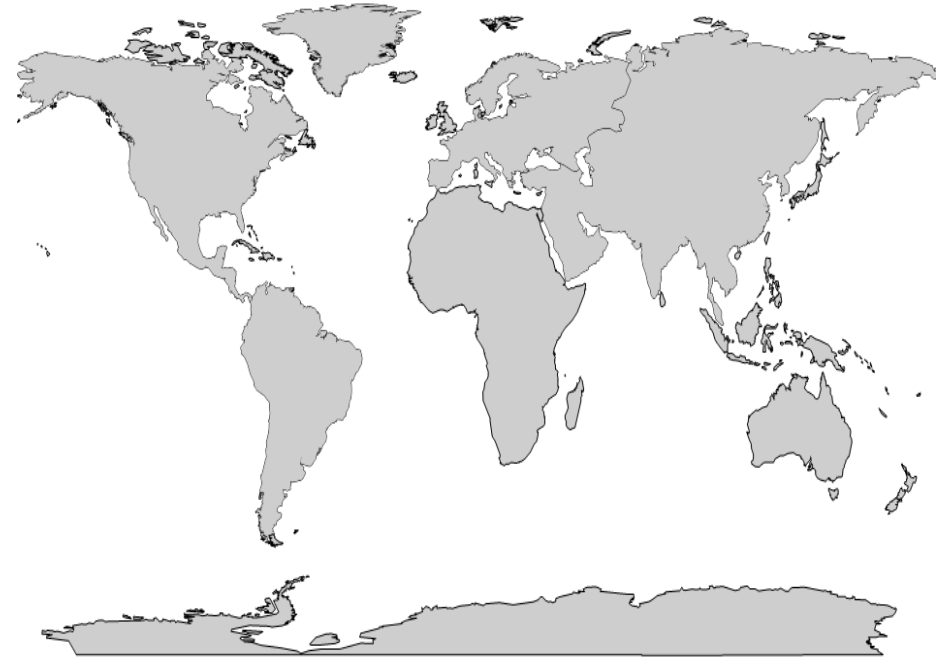

have for their elders.

meditate.

have a shrine at home where they can pray.

Learning about the world around me.

Can you label the UK and India on this map?

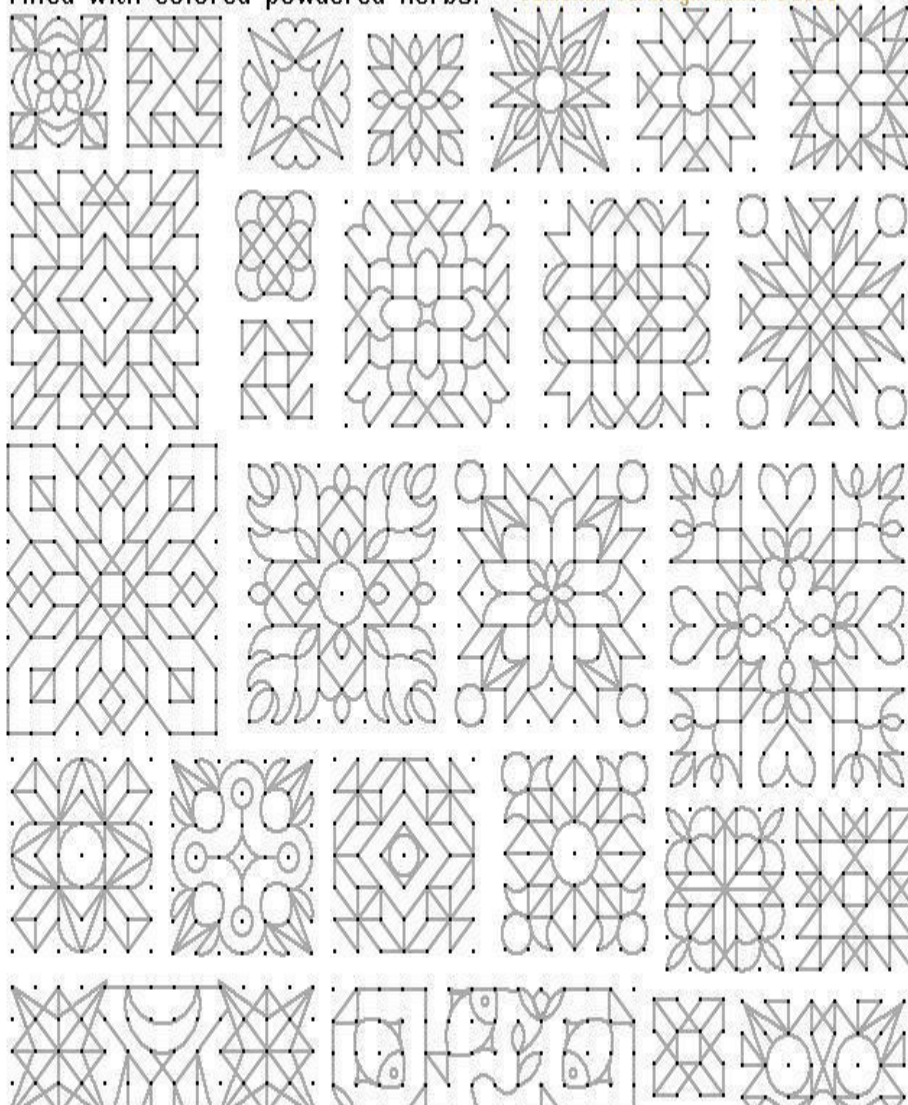

I know that there are 750 million Hindus in the world today. I know that anyone can be a member of the Hindu faith.

Learning about the world around me.

Ritual Patterns from Rural India

Rangoli are also created by building up patterns by connecting dots. They can be simple lines of rice powder or paste, or filled in with colors. In Kerala, they are filled with flower petals. They can also be filled with colored powdered herbs. Catherine Cartwright Jones c 2000

Learning about the world around me.

I know that Hindus have lots of different Gods.

Some of the main Hindu Gods are called:

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Learning about the world around me.

I have found out that Hinduism is the

.....religion in the world.

It started in4,000 years
go.

That makes it an older religion than Christianity!

I know that Hindus visit a temple called a

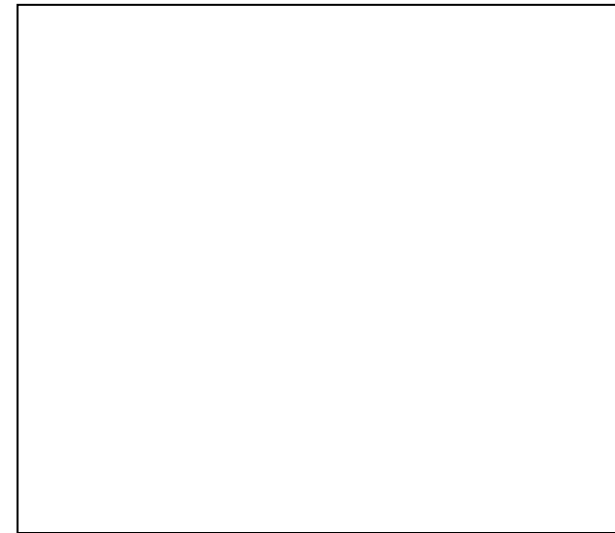

.....

Learning about the world around me.

I know that Hindus believe in reincarnation which means that when you die your soul lives on and is born again.

Sometimes you will be born again as a human, sometimes as an animal and sometimes as a plant.

If I was born again I would like to be born as a (draw a picture here of a plant or animal)

Learning about the world around me.

Hindus decorate their homes during
The festival of Divali in the hope that The Goddess Lakshmi (Goddess of Wealth and prosperity) will visit them
In the next year.

Design your own beautiful Rangoli
pattern here:

Learning about the world around me.

Hinduism

An investigation by

.....

