

RME

Over the past few weeks you have been learning a little about Christianity, Islam and Judaism. You will have noticed some similarities but also some differences between the three religions. This week you are going to look at Hinduism, which is completely different.

I have put some information in RME in My Folder. The first Power Point is very long as it covers Hinduism and India where it originates. Although it is long, it is interesting. Please take your time with all the work and don't forget to take a few 5 minute brain breaks.

I want you to take notes from the different sources of information I have given you and feedback your views of Hinduism using examples.

Enjoy.
