

31 Laying down the law

Lawyers and judges from three countries have been invited to discuss new pollution laws.

Organize a round table for the talks so that

- no two from the same country sit together
- a judge sits between two lawyers.

Draw the table and show where each person could sit.

