How to make... Hot Cross Buns

Ingredients

-  175g mixed dried fruit
- Zest of 1 orange
- 1x7g sachet of fast action dried yeast
- 175g caster sugar
- 300ml semi-skimmed milk, warm
- 600g strong white bread flour
- 3tsp of mixed spice
- 0.5tsp of ground cinnamon
- A grating of nutmeg
- 75g of unsalted butter, softened
- 1 tablespoon of melted butter
- The yolk of one medium egg, mixed with 1tbsp of milk
- 50g plain flour

Equipment

- Small bowl
- Jug
- Food processor
- Large bowl
- A clean surface
- A lightly oiled bowl
- Oiled clingfilm
- Oven
- Baking trays
- Greaseproof paper
- Wire rack
- Small pan

What you do...

1. Mix together the dried fruit and orange zest in a bowl and then set it aside. Put the yeast in a jug with 15g of the caster sugar. Pour over 4 tablespoons of the warm milk and then leave it to foam for 5 minutes.

2. In a food processor, pulse the bread flour, 110g of the caster sugar, a pinch of salt, the mixed spice, cinnamon, nutmeg and softened butter until it resembles bread-crumbs. Tip into a large bowl and make a well in the centre. Pour in the yeast mixture and most of the remaining milk. Mix to a sticky dough.

3. Tip the mixture onto a floured surface and knead for 8-10 minutes until smooth and elastic. Add the dried fruits and zest mixture and continue kneading until combined. Put this into a lightly oiled bowl and cover with oiled clingfilm and leave in a warm place to rise for 1 hour until it has doubled in size.

4. Press the dough into a rectangular shape. Divide and shape into 16 balls of equal size. Place, almost touching, on baking trays lined with greaseproof paper. Cover them with a damp tea towel and leave in a warm place until they've doubled in size and joined together. This could take up to an hour.

5. Meanwhile, preheat the oven to 230°C, fan 210°C, gas mark 8. Gently brush the buns with the egg yolk and milk mixture.

6. Mix together the plain flour and melted butter with 4 tablespoons of water to form a paste. Spoon into a piping bag with a plain nozzle and pipe a cross onto the top of each bun. Bake in the oven for 5 minutes, then reduce the oven temperature to 190°C, fan 170°C, gas 5, and bake for a further 10-15 minutes until golden.

7. Remove from the oven and cool on a wire rack. Meanwhile, gently heat the remaining 50g of sugar with 2 tbsp of water to dissolve. Bring to the boil and then brush the mixture over the buns. Allow to cool completely before serving.

250g of plain flour

1 tsp of cinnamon

2 tsp of baking powder

100g of sultanas

200g of white chocolate chips

Oven

Two baking trays

Large mixing bowl

Sieve

Wooden Spoon

Small bowl (for chocolate melting)

Microwave

Piping bag (or teaspoon)

What you do...

1. Turn on the oven at 180°C or gas mark 4. Lightly butter the baking trays.

2. In the large bowl, beat the butter, sugar and egg until it is smooth.

3. Sift the flour, cinnamon and baking powder into the bowl and then combine to make a dough. After doing this, add the sultanas and 100g of the white chocolate chips. Mix everything together.

4. Roll lumps of dough into balls roughly the same size as golf balls. Flatten these onto the trays.

5. Bake in the oven for 10 minutes until they look golden and yummy.

6. When baked, remove the cookies from the tray and place them on a cooling rack. While they're cooling, get the remaining white chocolate and melt it in the microwave on low in 20 second bursts.

7. Using a small piping bag or a teaspoon, carefully drizzle a cross on top of each cookie. Leave the icing to set before eating.

You could either give these away as Easter gifts or you can eat them yourself with a warm glass of milk!
