Miss Barclay has brown hair and blue eyes and she is a teacher. Right now Miss Barclay is at school and it is about to finish. When Miss Barclay comes back from doing teacher stuff. There is polyjuice potion in a bottle and it looked like cookies so Miss Barclay drank it and she felt weird then she turned into a clown.

She turned into a clown. she has massive feet she is so crazy. Miss Barclay gave everybody a balloon so how am I going to get myself back to normal. Maybe if I wait the next day ill turn back to normal. The problem is that I can't teach my class. so who can be our teacher. If my class has no teacher they'll play with my laptop.

I turn back to normal and I am back in my house. But I have lots of balloons in my house. I am not a clown anymore so I will pop the balloons. I am tired.

The Day Miss Barclay Took Polyjuice Potion.

Miss Barclay was walking to her friends house through a dark and spooky tunnel and she found a liquid and she drank it because she had been walking in circles for days. When she drank the liquid it tasted like vomit. She woke up and found a piece of glass then screamed because she looked like Little Mix. She was so shocked she got to her feet and ran to Miss Suen's house.

When Little Mix got to Miss Suen's house she knocked on the door rapidly. Miss Suen answered the door and she got surprised. Miss Suen was shocked when she opened the door.

Miss Barclay solved the problem by turning back into herself. She learned not to turn into someone else again. She was happy to turn back to herself again, because she really likes her own life.

The Day Miss Barclay Took Polyjuice potion.

Miss Barclay is our school teacher. One day Miss Barclay found a bottle on the floor, she was curious and thirsty so she drank it and turned into Maisie. It tasted like banana bread.

Miss Barclay tried to turn back. She couldn't, because she had to make a new polyjuice potion and the polyjuice potion takes 1 hole month to make. Miss Barclay didn't know what to do. She also had to make sure Maisie's guinie pigs were well hydrated, not escaped and if they have enough food to eat. She didn't have enough time to do everything Maisie does on her day to day life. She doesn't know how to do anything Maisie does, Maisie does things differently to how Miss Barclay does it. Miss Barclay has to turn back somehow. But how?

She can make a potion to turn herself back to normal she needs bananas, oranges, pineapples, strawberries, apples and vanilla extract she drank it and it took an hour to turn herself back. It did work but not fully for the other half she needed is fruit and veg.

The Day Miss Barclay Took Polyjuice Potion

I am in school teaching children how to write neatly. I have glasses, a face mask and teach at Harrismuir Primary School in Scotland. I am wearing a grey jumper, black trousers and a dark green tag. I took a drink of my cup but it tastes disgusting like rubber. I think one of my students poured polyjuice potion into my cup. I look like a student which is Kerr.

All of the students say hi to me because they think I'm Kerr. They asked me to tell a joke but I didn't know any jokes because I couldn't think of any. Then the real Kerr came in and the class was very confused because they are seeing two Kerrs. We are having to do a joke off. The second Kerr is winning and I am losing.

The fake Kerr turns back into Miss Barclay. The real Kerr tells a joke.

The Day Miss Barclay Took Polyjuice Potion

One sunny day Miss Barclay took a potion called polyjuice potion. She drank it because she wanted to turn into Queen Elizabeth. She wanted to live in a palace as well. It tasted like strawberries and cream. She found it while she was walking in the woods at a tree. She decided to drink it. She felt really weird after drinking it. She fainted when she was looking at herself with a mirror she had in her pocket and woke up at Buckingham palace. Her butler came to give her breakfast, she really enjoyed her eggs, bacon and potato scones. She wanted to look around.

The first thing miss Barclay looked at was her room the second thing she looked at was the dinner room. The real queen turned into miss Barclay. The butler was no where to be seen in the palace he had vanished to the real queen so miss Barclay was scared because she was alone in the palace.

The next morning she found herself in school and looked at a mirror she looked like herself as a teacher. So she can teach again then the bell rang so the kids came in. She is teaching the class again so her life is back to normal.
