LITERACY

I spy with my little eye...

Today I would like you to focus on the following sounds: j v w y z

These can sometimes be tricky to remember! Go through each sound and practice writing them 3 times!

Next I would like you to play the 'I spy' game linked above. Get an adult to say a sound and you have to find an item that begins with that sound. Have a go at sounding out and writing down the item that you found! (You could maybe split your page so you have a section for each sound)

Extension: Write 5 sentences. Each sentence should contain one of the words you wrote down in the above task!

NUMERACY!

Missing Numbers

Last week we looked at some missing numbers work and specifically missing addends! This week we are going to look at missing numbers in subtraction sums. We call these missing subtrahends! (Tricky stuff)

Please copy and complete the above questions.

Miss Duncan's Hints and Tips:

For these questions I would like you to have a group of items to help you. Here is an example:

$9 - ? = 7$ The sum tells us that a mystery number has been taken away from our 9 items. There are a few ways to solve this. You could start with your 9 items and move 7 items over and see what is left! Try out different strategies and see how you get on! I want you to challenge yourself and use your problem solving skills!
