

Sumdog Competition Instructions

Step 1: Have the student log onto their account, then choose the option to 'Tasks'

Step 2: The name of the contest should be available as one of your student's activities.

If the contest is not visible, it means they are logged onto an account which has not been entered into the contest.

Step 3: Click on the contest name to select it as the primary activity.

Step 4: The contest should now appear as the current activity your student is working on.

The 'Question Left' should also now be visible. This will show your student how many questions they have left to answer in the contest.

Sumdog contests have a maximum question limit of 1,000. A student can still answer questions after they reach this limit, but they will not count towards the contest score for the class.
