

Superpowers

Imagine that you can wave a magic wand and give yourself one superpower!

Think really carefully and choose a superpower. Remember that you can be creative in your choice. The superpower you choose does not have to be a standard choice (although it can be if you wish).

Ideas for superpowers could be:

- the ability to fly;
- invisibility;
- the ability to climb buildings;
- super, powerful hearing;
- super, powerful vision;
- the ability to see through objects.

Once you have chosen your superpower, think about why you have chosen that particular superpower.

Why?

If you had the superpower for one day, what would you use your superpowers to do?

If you could give your superpower to someone else, who would you give it to and why?

What superpower would you choose next time and why?
