P4 Vikings!

The children engaged with our Viking topic enthusiastically, learning about Viking raids, home life and longboats. Our homework challenge of making a model of a Viking longboat produced some fantastic models. As part of our topic learning we had an excellent trip to National Museum of Scotland and took part in a workshop called "So you want to be a Viking!" This was a very informative workshop and we also enjoyed having a look around the rest of this great museum. Our topic was finished with an excellent assembly where we showed our learning to the rest of the school. Daniel made an excellent announcement at the start warning that the Vikings were coming! Excellent performances by all, well done!

Fantastic trip to National Museum of Scotland.

Next Topic...

Our next topic will be on the weather, hopefully we will be able to go outdoors for practical learning! We will be exploring all aspects including the weather and climate of world wide countries, extreme weather, how its measured and reported and how we convert weather into energy.

Easter Enterprise

The children worked very hard to sell our enterprise products and managed persuade the rest of the school to buy our Easter Bunnies and Easter Dangers. They created great posters to persuade people buy our products and took it in turns to go round the school taking orders and distributing goods. Well done, great effort!
