

How do I feel as a learner?

- Use the traffic light system to reflect on how confident you feel with identifying fractions of a shape.

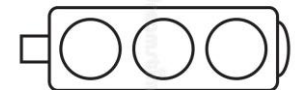

Red = not confident, Amber = confident with some aspects, Green = confident with all aspects

- When I shape is split into equal parts I can;

Identify the fraction of the shape which is shaded,

Write the fraction of the shape which is shaded,

Match the written fraction with the shape which shows this fraction,

