

Literacy lesson- Tuesday 21st
April

VCOP Starter- Vocabulary

Who might speak in this way?
When? Why?

grumble

cackle

sigh

L.I. To identify the key features of a WAGOLL.

Steps to Success

I know a WAGOLL means 'What a good one looks like'.

I can identify what I think is good about the WAGOLL.

I can identify key features in the WAGOLL.

Remember! For our next writing task we will be conveying an experience...

But what does that mean?

Although it sounds fancy all it means is you will writing about something you have experienced yourself.

What experience could we convey?

Right now, we are all experiencing what is like to live in 'lockdown'. This is a very unusual experience for us all and will probably be something we all remember in years to come. So this is what we will be writing about!

Here is a WAGOLL to show you the kind of writing I would like you to do!

What do you think is good about the WAGOLL?

On the first week of 'lockdown' everything felt strange. The teachers were told to go into school on the Monday which felt weird as there were no pupils. My classroom was desolate and empty. On one hand it felt good to give it a good tidy but cleaning out the class recorders was yucky! I felt sad as I wasn't sure when I'd see my lovely class or teaching friends again! Miss Swift and I saw some pupils out of the window and waved madly at them- they looked at us like we were crazy! We shouted- "Why aren't you doing your online learning?!" and laughed.

Easter holidays came and it felt great to have a break from doing school work. I busied myself gardening. I planted carrot, pea, bean, courgette, cabbage, spinach, broccoli and squash! I'm keeping all my fingers crossed I'll get a good crop this summer! I tried to be creative and painted a picture- I was quite proud of it. Having said that, I sent a picture of it to my brother and he laughed hysterically and asked me what it was! He's such a meanie!

What do you think is good about the WAGOLL?

In the second week of the holidays I read and tried to get fit. I needed to getting moving because I ate way too many Easter eggs (worth it though)! I had video chats with my friends and family. My family have started doing a quiz each week to keep us occupied. Last time my crazy aunty decided to sing us all a song and do a dance too! It was really funny because she REALLY can't sing!

Now I'm back to school work, writing reports and making online lessons. Twix and Buttons (my cats) don't like it and are desperately trying to get my attention! Later I'll cook myself a curry and go for a run! Try not to laugh if you see me!

The key features of the WAGOLL are...

Written in sentences

Paragraphs

Different sentence openers

Conjunctions

A range of punctuation used

Feelings

Now, go back to the WAGOLL and try to identify these things!

Did you find the key features?

Conjunctions Sentence openers Punctuation Feelings

On the first week of 'lockdown' everything felt strange. The teachers were told to go into school on the Monday which felt weird as there were no pupils. My classroom was desolate and empty. On one hand it felt good to give it a good tidy but cleaning out the class recorders was yucky! I felt sad as I wasn't sure when I'd see my lovely class or teaching friends again! Miss Swift and I saw some pupils out of the window and waved madly at them- they looked at us like we were crazy! We shouted- "Why aren't you doing your online learning?!" and laughed.

Easter holidays came and it felt great to have a break from doing school work. I busied myself gardening. I planted carrot, pea, bean, courgette, cabbage, spinach, broccoli and squash! I'm keeping all my fingers crossed I'll get a good crop this summer! I tried to be creative and painted a picture- I was quite proud of it. Having said that, I sent a picture of it to my brother and he laughed hysterically and asked me what it was! He's such a meanie!

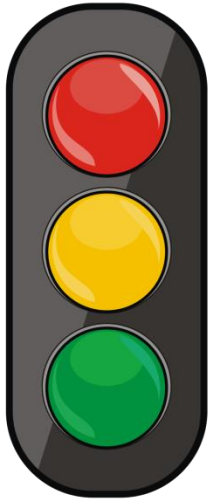

In the second week of the holidays I read and tried to get fit. I needed to getting moving because I ate way too many Easter eggs (worth it though)! I had video chats with my friends and family. My family have started doing a quiz each week to keep us occupied. Last time my crazy aunty decided to sing us all a song and do a dance too! It was really funny because she REALLY can't sing!

Now I'm back to school work, writing reports and making online lessons. Twix and Buttons (my cats) don't like it and are desperately trying to get my attention! Later, I'll cook myself a curry also I'll go for a run! Try not to laugh if you see me!

Now, let's reflect on our learning!

Do/can you...

- ...know a WAGOLL means 'What a good one looks like'?
- ...identify what I think is good about the WAGOLL?
- ...identify the key features of the WAGOLL?

Not achieved the learning intention- I've answered 'no' to all of the above.
Go through the slides again.

Partly achieved the learning intention- I've answered 'yes' to some of the above
Goo job! We'll keep practising.

Achieved the learning intention- I've answered 'yes' to all of the above.
Well done!