How are you getting on with your flower from last week? It may take you a few more weeks to keep adding to it to make an impressive bloom.

One of our key workers is the postman,

Can you write a letter or make a card to someone you cannot see and include a message they can read to show how much you miss or value them? On your daily walk can you post it? With a bit of luck, they may send you a message back. Please share if you get a reply.

Numeracy

Warm up- With someone else, throw a ball to one another counting in one's, two's, five's and 10's. Can you make it to 100 without dropping the ball?

Google

Jack Hartman songs to help you sing along.

Here are just a couple of songs to help with number bonds

Last week we looked at number stories up to 10. Choose another number and write as many number stories you can in your jotter, both adding and subtraction and see if you can beat last weeks number. Use lego, bricks, pasta pieces etc to help you see the stories.

Topic

A mouse took a walk through a deep dark wood.....

Brain storm- What did the mouse see in the woods? Think back to our sense's theme. What do you think he saw, heard, smelt tasted and felt in the woods?

Draw a picture and label each sense with what the mouse must have experienced.
