We are extending our knowledge and skills in persuasive language. Developing talk before writing Learning about 'debating' will help you to think of more ways to persuade in your writing. Watch this video- you don't need to watch all of it and it might need some extra adult explanation. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yi6lm-Sb6Vw Question- When and why might people do this? What type of jobs would people need to be good at doing this skill? Watch this next video too.  Persuasive Writing for Kids: Developing Reasons https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6bbWJKlv2c	Would you like to live in a castle? After reading watching the video of Buckingham Palace yesterday, https://central.espresso.co.uk/espresso/primary_uk/subject/module/video/item1073115/grade1/module926790/index.html (login in username: student21929, password: windy26) Argue on whether or not you would like to live in a castle. Try to give reasons for your answer. Also try and incorporate some of the words you wrote down yesterday to describe the castle.	Check back over your writing to make sure it makes sense. Make sure you have included these things in your writing:
